SPECIAL SESSION TAKES UP NAVAL TREATY TODAY

Hoover Message to Be Read in Senate.

Upsets a Honeymoon

Salt Lake City, Utah, July 6.—(AP)—Senator Reed Smoot of Utah said tonight he had received a telegram from President Hoover urging him to return to Washington to support the naval treaty during the special session of the senate and that he had abandoned his plans to spend a honeymoon in Honolulu. He said he would leave for the Capital tomorrow afternoon.

Senator Smoot arrived here tonight with his wife from their home in Provo. The senator was married last week to the former Mrs. Alice Taylor Sheets.

Senator and Mrs. Smoot will be guests of President and Mrs. Hoover at the White House.

President Hoover in his message to Mr. Smoot said that a large number of the known supporters of the naval pact are at present away from the capital.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., July 6.—[Special.]—The senate will convene in special session at noon tomorrow to consider the navy limitation treaty negotiated at London which President Hoover transmitted for ratification last May.

If a quorum of senators — 49 — or more should be present when Vice President Curtis calls the body to order the debate on the treaty will begin at once.

First in order will be the reading of a message from President Hoover asking the advice and consent of the senate with respect to the London treaty. Unusual importance attaches to this message, for the reason that it will be the first considered explanation and defense of the treaty to be volunteered by the administration.

Hughes' Example Not Followed.

The American delegation headed by Secretary of State Henry L. Stimson which negotiated the treaty made no report to the President upon the pact as was made to President Harding by the delegation headed by Secretary of State Charles Evans Hughes, which negotiated the Washington navy limitation treaty. The Hughes report became at once and has remained ever since the official interpretation of the treaty. The Stimson delegation having refrained from making a report, there is not up to date an official interpretation of the London treaty.

The only statements officially made concerning the treaty by the negotiators up to date were elicited by the interrogation of Secretary Stimson and Secretary of the Navy Charles Francis Adams by the foreign relations committee and naval affairs committee of the senate. These statements were fragmentary.

Only Formal Report Unfriendly.

When the foreign relations committee reported the treaty to the senate was the recommendation that it be ratified neither Senators William E. Borah [Rep., Idaho], the chairman, David A. Reed [Rep., Pa.], nor Joseph T. Robinson [Dem., Ark.], two of the negotiators of the pact, made any report explaining or defending the agreement.

The only detailed study of the treaty so far presented to the senate is that contained in the minority report, signed by Senators Hiram W. Johnson [Rep., Cal.], George H. Moses [Rep., N. H.], and Arthur R. Robinson [Rep., Ind.], which condemns the pact as inimical to the best interests of the United States and recommends its rejection.

The strategy of the administration forces in the treaty fight was planned in week-end talks President Hoover had at his Rapidan camp with Senators James E. Watson [Rep., Ind.], majority leader of the senate; Charles L. McNary [Rep., Ore.], assistant leader, and Simeon D. Fess [Rep., O.]. According to one of the participants in the conference who returned tonight the administration looks forward to the ratification of the treaty within a week or ten days, with not more than a dozen votes against it.

Democrat to Lead Fight for Pact.

Chairman Borah of the foreign relations committee, who is lukewarm to the treaty, though he will vote for it, is not planning to take the lead in defense of the pact. In fact, the debate will be opened in behalf of the treaty not by an administration leader, not by a Republican, but by a Democrat, Senator Claude A. Swanson of Vir-

RIOTS ON RHINE STIR WAR HATES; FRENCH ANGRY

Demand Berlin Curb Demonstrations.

BY HENRY WALES.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PARIS, July 6.—The shadow of old war hates lies heavier on western Europe today than at any time in recent years. Despite conversations of a mutually conciliatory spirit between Foreign Minister Briand of France and Ambassador von Hoesch of Germany to dispel the storm cloud caused by the reprisals of German Fascists against citizens of the Rhineland who are suspected of French sympathy, the cloud exists and observers say it seems to be growing bigger.

Almost the entire French press, including the more conservative papers, and even some of the left organs played up the new disorders of the Rhineland yesterday and are running gloomy or denunciatory editorials. The other storm cloud—Italy—also helps to increase the feeling of alarm and depression, but for the time being public attention is focused chiefly on the Rhineland.

Fear Reprisals on Women.

The extreme nationalist elements are quivering with rage today at the announcement that the Rhineland terrorists, having punished the men separatists, are now about to start reprisals against women who showed French sympathies during the period of occupation. All girl friends of French soldiers left behind at the time of the evacuation will be subjected to public disgrace and perhaps bodily injury, it is reported here. If such reprisals actually occur they will very likely precipitate a critical situation, as it touches Latin gallantry, a most delicate point.

To add to the gloom Minister of Justice Raoul Peret this afternoon addressed French war veterans and said the Rhineland disorders are a clear warning of the survival of old war hates.

"After twelve years we see that moral disarmament everywhere is still uncompleted," he cried. "Future generations have a burdensome heritage. It will be a hard task to accomplish if the fruits of the victory, which you won, are to be conserved. Your first duty is to neglect nothing to insure our security by an adequately armed force and with well fortified frontiers."

"Berlin Is Responsible."

Le Temps, in an officially inspired editorial today, admits that the Rhineland extremists do not represent the whole of the German people, but declares that the German people are responsible for their acts and, if Germany wishes to earn a pacifist reputation, she must put down reactionary elements.

"It is necessary to determine whether the German people intend to uphold these enemies of peace," the paper says. "Berlin must accept its responsibility in this affair. It formally pledged the allies there would be no reprisals against those in evacuated territories who have French sympathies, or who had entered into friendly relations with the French during the occupation period."

ROW WORRIES LEAGUE

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

GENEVA, July 6.—"Trouble" between France and Italy is the principal cause of anxiety of the league of nations, and of the international corps of diplomatic representatives here.

Nobody speaks of "war," nobody expects any formal hostilities. What every one worries about is the possibility of a sudden coup d'etat, like the seizure of Fiume by d'Annunzio, when a Fascist hothead might try to overthrow the existing régime in Nice or in Tunis.

Those are the two theaters principally mentioned, and the Riviera is envisaged even more generally than the African colony.

Blame London Conference.

Everybody blames the London naval conference for focussing the attention of France and Italy and above all, of public opinion in those two countries, on their differences through the medium of the world press.

League officials point out that all of the meetings of the preparatory disarmament commission never once roused this sleeping menace into action and insist if the naval negotiations had been held here, the impasse would never have been reached by the Paris and Rome governments.

Mussolini is not too well liked here. His continued flouting of the league has aroused antagonism, and his recent series of inflammatory speeches

500,000 Autos Jam Roads as Holiday Ends

More than a million persons motored home yesterday and last night after a three day holiday in the country. In addition, some 700,000 persons visited the beaches during the afternoon and evening. Traffic congestion was the result.

County highway police estimated that 500,000 cars with an average of three passengers each had streamed into town between 4 p. m. and midnight. One hundred extra policemen were pressed into service to untangle traffic snarls.

Many of the record breaking throngs at the beaches came and left in cars. Hence the park boulevards were choked and automobiles crawled in second speed as young couples, picnic parties and bathers meandered across the pavements.

Two Bathers Drowned.

No fatalities directly attributed to the traffic jams were recorded, but two bathers were drowned. James Tufo, 35 years old, 4735 Polk street, was seized with cramps while swimming in a quarry pool at 92d street and Stony Island avenue. Jamske Dydoki, 1023 West 18th street, was drowned in the lake near 15th street where the shore is unpatroled by life guards.

With the skies unclouded and a July sun beaming down the temperature soared at 11 a. m. to a maximum of 84 degrees. A lake breeze lowered the mercury during the afternoon to the comfortable lower 70's. The forecast is for cloudy skies, moderate shifting winds, and possible thundershowers today.

Traffic congestion was lessened somewhat by the circumstance that automobiles were almost exclusively city bound. On Cook county's four lane highways, when necessary, three lanes were utilized for inbound traffic while a single lane was reserved for the few outbound machines.

Solid Parades of Autos.

But in bordering counties on the north and west and on the Indiana highways the homeward rush was at times choked. The Dunes and Lincoln highways in the late afternoon were solid parades for miles into Indiana. Families perspired and radiators boiled as the processions crept into Chicago.

North of the city the congestion extended well into Wisconsin and west almost to the Mississippi river. On Chicago's outskirts, where radial highways approach the hub, every narrow pavement became the potential scene of a collision as more daring drivers swung out of line to the left and raced to reach the head of the parade.

SETS NEW AIR LOOP RECORD, THEN LOSES IT

A few hours after Dale [Red] Jackson, St. Louis pilot, had established a new airplane record of 36 outside loops yesterday morning at Curtiss flying field near Glenview, dispatches from San Mateo, Cal., announced that Paul Mantz, chief pilot of an aviation school there, had beaten Jackson's mark by ten, making 46 loops.

The dispatches said that Mantz had completed his 24th loop when he was informed that Jackson had set a record, and he continued flying until he established the better mark. The information was conveyed to him by another plane, on the side of which large "36's" had been painted. Mantz was in the air three and a half hours.

Jackson, who was associated with Forrest O'Brine in the 420 hour endurance flight of the St. Louis Robin last year, broke a record of 22 loops made at Los Angeles last Sunday by Gordon Mounce. Jackson and O'Brine have announced their intention to go after the 553 hour refueling endurance record established last week by the Hunter brothers of Sparta, Ill., at Sky Harbor airport.

2,000,000 N. Y. VACATIONISTS TIE UP TRAFFIC

New York, July 6.—[Special.]—Two million New Yorkers, who spent the week-end holiday at the seashore, in the mountains and at the lakes looked at each other this afternoon and said, "Let's go home."

Traffic experts guessed that most of them said it about 4 p. m.. From that time until after midnight highways in New Jersey, Connecticut, Westchester county and on Long Island were clogged with traffic.

Trains running in extra sections were crowded and hot and stuffy. Extra ferryboats were put into service, but by 8 p. m., when the peak of the rush was reached, long lines of automobiles waited in noisy, honking impatience on the New Jersey side of the Hudson for their turns to come.

REPORT 5 KILLED IN MEXICO CITY VOTING CLASHES

MEXICO CITY, July 6.—(AP)—Rioting broke out here late this evening during voting in Mexico's congressional election. Early reports said that between one and five persons had been killed and from 15 to 30 injured.

The two most serious clashes occurred in attacks by groups armed with clubs on a voting booth and in a fight with clubs and stones by partisans on the rival parties. Both were in the suburbs. Reports from other places in Mexico tonight also mentioned clashes, but gave no casualties.

The candidates of the national revolutionary party, to which President Ortiz Rubio belongs, in most places apparently were well in the lead for both senate and chamber over those of the anti-reelection party.

D. E. Jerrems, Rich Tailor, Ends Own Life

Donald E. Jerrems, 44 years old, vice president of Jerrems, Inc., loop tailors, was found dead in a gas filled bedroom of his home at 1541 Astor street. The police said the death was suicidal, but relatives were unable to ascribe a motive.

Mr. Jerrems' body was found on the floor of a third floor bedroom, fully clothed, with a pillow under the head. Beside him lay a tube attached to a gas pipe. One end of the tube was attached to a cardboard box, cut as though to fit over the face.

Dead Several Days.

The body was found by a brother, Alexander N. Jerrems, 5327 Harper avenue, who went to the gold coast home with a brother-in-law, Florian D. Wallace, 1362 Astor street, after repeated attempts to reach him by telephone had failed. Jerrems appeared to have been dead two or three days, according to police, who were told that he had failed to keep an appointment with his brother July 4.

Mrs. Rosalind Jerrems, the widow, and their children, Donald, 15 years old, and Eleanore, 17 years old, were at the family summer home near Traverse City, Mich. Mr. Jerrems returned from there Monday. Notified by telephone of her husband's death, Mrs. Jerrems said she would start at once for Chicago.

Native of Chicago.

Mr. Jerrems was born in Chicago in 1885, the son of Mr. and Mrs. William G. Jerrems, and since 1905 had been associated with the Jerrems firm, which has five branches in the loop and is one of the oldest of its kind in the city. He was a member of the Chicago Athletic association and of the Exmoor Country club.

He was considered wealthy and relatives said he had experienced no financial or business difficulties. His health, they told the police, was good and his home life happy.

YOUNG MAN TRIES TO KISS FLYING AMY; GETS SLAP

PERTH, Western Australia, July 5.—(AP)—There is one young man in Perth today who knows that Amy Johnson, the English girl who recently made a brilliant flight alone from England to Australia, can only be kissed at her own sweet will.

There were wild scenes in the streets when the smiling girl flyer arrived today on a tour of Australian cities. Her automobile was mobbed by admirers.

One enthusiastic young man attempted to kiss Miss Johnson, but she slapped his face hard and he retired, crestfallen, to nurse a bleeding nose.

Girl Dangles from Airplane; Rescuer Killed

Bruno Schustek, 27 years old, aviator, parachute jumper, and an active member of the Illinois Glider association, was killed yesterday when he fell 600 feet to the ground from a rope while trying to rescue a 19 year old girl who, attempting her first parachute jump, had become entangled in the wires of her plane.

The girl, Miss Mary Fahrney, daughter of E. H. Fahrney, 400 North Euclid avenue, Oak Park, took off from the Stinson airport at La Grange in a plane piloted by L. F. Kline. Fastened to her waist by ropes was a demonstration parachute with which she sought a new air thrill. Miss Fahrney had done some flying, but this was to be her first parachute leap. She recently returned from a year in Europe.

Parachute Is Caught.

The plane spiraled up 1,000 feet and Miss Fahrney made ready for her adventure. She climbed over the side and lowered herself by the ropes beneath the fuselage. But here an interruption occurred. The parachute, designed to operate under the weight of the person making the leap, did not free itself from its fastening. Miss Fahrney's weight was not sufficient.

The girl dangled helplessly beneath the plane as it speeded on. Kline, watching the progress of the adventure over the side of his cockpit, saw her predicament, but he, too, was helpless to aid her. Taking the plane to the ground would only have crushed her.

Meanwhile spectators at the airport had seen Miss Fahrney's plight. Two of them were Schustek and Charles [Bud] Geiger, another pilot. They immediately leaped into a plane and went aloft, planning to effect a rescue if possible.

Schustek Tries Rescue.

Pilot Kline, with Miss Fahrney hanging beneath his plane, was flying west. They crossed the Cook county line into Du Page county with Geiger and Schustek close behind in the other ship. As the two planes neared each other Schustek swung himself out of the plane piloted by Geiger and slid to the end of a twenty foot rope fastened to the fuselage of the ship.

According to witnesses on the ground, Schustek apparently made an effort to release Miss Fahrney's parachute as his plane neared the other. He failed, but as the two planes drew apart the parachute released itself and the girl floated to the ground.

What happened then no one could tell, but the spectators said that Schustek, apparently wearied by his efforts, lost his grip on the rope dangling from Geiger's plane. He was not wearing a parachute. He fell 600 feet to the ground and was instantly killed.

His body was taken to a Hinsdale morgue and an inquest will be conducted today by the Du Page county coroner.

KILLS WIFE, SELF ON RETURN FROM TRIP TO AFRICA

[Copyright: 1930: By the New York Times.]

LONDON, July 6.—A double shooting tragedy took place today in the home of Gerald Lawrence, Shakespearean actor, and his wife, Miss Fay Davis, American heroine of "The Prisoner of Zenda" and other famous productions of 20 years ago. Their 22 year old daughter, Mrs. Margery Cotterill, was found dead from three bullet wounds alongside her husband, Eardley Cotterill, 24 year old engineer, who had just returned from America. With a pistol at his side, Mr. Cotterill was still breathing when the police arrived, but he died at a hospital without regaining consciousness.

CHICAGO PILOTS KILLED IN FOG NEAR SO. HAVEN

Fall as They Blaze Air Trail North.

8 Die in Air Crashes

Airplane crashes took a toll of eight lives yesterday, two in Michigan, two in New York, three in Iowa and one in California. In the Iowa accident a 17 year old girl was a victim.

Pilot Bert E. Kogle and his copilot, Duane L. Heller, plunged to their death yesterday in Lake Michigan five miles south of South Haven, Mich., when they lost their way in a fog while blazing a new air route between Chicago and Mackinac island. The plane sank in twenty feet of water a mile off shore opposite State park.

The flyers took off in their plane, a six passenger blue Travelair aquaplane, from the ramp at the foot of Jackson boulevard at 6:18 yesterday morning. They were to blaze a trail for the Continental Airways, Inc., according to Albert S. Malecki, assistant general manager.

At 8 o'clock they were sighted in the fog by Miss Mary Ann Boetticher, 17 years old, 5318 Drexel boulevard, who is on vacation at State park. She was canoeing almost a mile off shore.

Girl Tells of Plunge.

"I heard the roar of an airplane and looked up," Miss Boetticher said. "The plane was flying so low that I could have reached up and touched it with my paddle. For a moment I thought that I was going to be hit. Evidently the pilot saw me and veered suddenly out into the lake to avoid the bluffs on the shore. I saw one wing strike the water as the plane turned. The next minute the plane plunged down into the water. Its tail floated up slowly."

The force of the impact had torn the plane in two. The wings, the motor, and part of the fuselage were at the bottom of the lake.

Maynard Hill, caretaker at the park, saw the plane strike the water and called the coast guard. He and Henry Kueble of South Haven put off in a boat and located the wreckage. Capt. Fisher of the South Haven coast guard and Boatswain's Mate Andreason of the St. Joseph coast guard went to the scene.

One Body Is Recovered.

The body of Kogle was recovered, but that of Heller could not be found. Miss Boetticher said she could not see whether the plane carried two men. However, a pocketbook containing Heller's card and $30 was recovered. Officials of the airline said that Heller was to have accompanied Kogle.

The body of Kogle was identified by Homer Barry, pilot of THE TRIBUNE plane 'Arf Pint, who flew to South Haven with a diving suit. In Kogle's clothes were found his pilot's license and several letters.

One of these was an application to the department of commerce for a position as airport inspector. It said that he had 2,500 hours of experience in the air, 800 at the controls of a trimotored Fokker. Another letter said that Kogle had been released by the Northern Air lines, a subsidiary of the Universal Air lines, last Jan. 22 for economy.

In Chicago Three Days.

Kogle was 28 years old and had been in Chicago for only three days. He had come from St. Louis, where he was employed as a commercial pilot at Fairfax field.

Heller's pocketbook contained a limited commercial pilot's license, issued in the name of Don Heller, which credited him with 50 hours of experience in the air. His age was given as 26 and his home as 3305 South Michigan avenue. Residents of South Haven said that he had spent his vacation there last year and had flown a plane similar to that which crashed.

The coast guard towed the tail of the plane into South Haven. Attempts were made to recover the remainder of the wreckage in the belief that Heller's body would be found in it. Divers reported that they could not find the body, but said that they were unable to shift the wreckage to make a conclusive search.

PILOT AND STUDENT KILLED.

New York, July 6.—[Special.]—A pilot and a 19 year old student flyer were killed this afternoon when a Barling NB-3 monoplane, in which they were riding, crashed on Floyd Bennett airport before 4,000 spectators attending an air circus at the nearby Barren Island airport. The pilot was John W. Gorman, 40 years old, who lived in Brooklyn. The student was Martin Wilsker of Manhattan.

The crash occurred just as a sudden shower sent thirty planes hurrying in for landings. Gorman, an experienced pilot, had averted tire by cutting his switch but he was dead when other pilots extricated him from the wreckage. Wilsker was unconscious, but died in an ambulance.

Former Lieut. E. A. Bell, pilot of a passenger plane at the field, said the plane went into a flat spin about 700 feet in the air. He advanced the theory that the controls jammed or the student "froze" to them. Lieut. Bell's description of the accident was accepted by the police for their records.

Three Killed in Iowa.

Ruthven, Ia., July 6.—(AP)—Vera Hughes, 16, died shortly before midnight, her death bringing the total to three in a plane crash near here today. The others killed were Kenneth Wilson, 20, pilot, and Ernest Southworth, 24, mechanic, both of Sioux City. Their plane was said to have fallen while making a bank, its wings clipping telephone wires, plunging nose downward. The plane had been here since July 4 doing a passenger business. The girl had accepted an invitation to take a ride.

Dies in Ocean Plunge.

Laguna Beach, Cal., July 6.—(AP)—Dick Dodds of Santa Ana, Cal., was killed today when his monoplane dived into Crescent bay under full throttle while he was stunting before beaches crowded with pleasure seekers. Three years ago Dodds became manager of the aviation department of the Union Oil company.

Mrs. Florence Lowe Barnes, flyer, said she was watching Dodds stunt his plane. Suddenly it sideslipped, lost altitude and the pilot cut off the motor to right it. Near the water he opened the throttle, but the plane dived just beyond the breakers.

Dozens of fishing boats, pontoon boats and other small craft went to the scene. The wreckage of the plane, with Dodd's body in the cockpit, was dragged ashore.

BRITISH AIRMAN CRASHES IN TRIAL FOR OCEAN FLIGHT

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

ST. JOHNS, Newfoundland, July 6.—Squadron Leader Maj. C. S. Wynne-Eyton, who arrived here from England last Monday for the purpose of making a solo flight from Harbor Grace to England in a De Haviland Puss Moth monoplane, attempted to take off at 11:30 a. m. for Harbor Grace.

Just after taking off at Lester's field, from which Lieut. Arthur W. Brown and Capt. John Alcock made a successful flight to Ireland in 1919, the plane took a nose dive from a height of about 25 feet and plunged to the ground, immediately bursting into flames. Spectators rushed to his assistance and rescued him from the burning plane. Maj. Wynne-Eyton is in Grace hospital with cuts about his face and hands and suffering from burns and the shock, but not seriously injured.

RARE OLD TOMES OF 15TH CENTURY COMING TO U. S.

Original Gutenberg Bible in Collection.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., July 6.—[Special.]—A chance meeting several years ago of Cardinal Mundelein of Chicago with Dr. Otto H. F. Vollbehr of Berlin, Germany, has resulted in the acquisition by the library of congress of the famous Vollbehr Incunabula which, with its original Gutenberg Bible, is recognized as the greatest collection of fifteenth century books in existence.

Last Friday President Hoover signed the bill authorizing the purchase for $1,500,000 of the rare volumes conservatively estimated by American and foreign experts to be worth at least $3,000,000. An appropriation for the purchase was included in the deficiency appropriation bill finally approved by both houses in the closing hours of the sesion.

All Europe Searched.

For more than 30 years, Dr. Vollbehr searched Europe for incunabula—books printed in the fifteenth century immediately after the establishment of the first printing press by Johann Gutenberg. After the war and the slump of the German mark Dr. Vollbehr made some of the important additions to his collections and among them the greatest prize of all—one of the three parchment copies of Gutenberg's Bible, itself valued at more than $1,500,000.

Dr. Vollbehr had intended to present the collection to the German nation, or at least sell to the government at a nominal figure. There was a ready market for the books elsewhere, but he refused to break the collection even when offered tremendous sums for individual volumes by American private collectors.

Exhibited in Chicago.

Then he met Cardinal Mundelein traveling in Europe and the cardinal, visioning the collection as the possible nucleus for the library of the great university he was planning near Chicago, persuaded Dr. Vollbehr to bring the incunabula to Chicago for exhibition during the Eucharistic congress there several years ago.

Cardinal Mundelein's hope to acquire the collection did not materialize, however, and Dr. Vollbehr prepared to return with it to Germany. He refused uncounted offers to sell the Gutenberg Bible page by page at figures which would have netted him much more than $3,000,000 for that one volume alone, but he refused all and declined to sell a single volume from the collection.

Parts of the collection were exhibited in different cities and in the library of congress, which Dr. Vollbehr came to regard as the ideal depositary for the books. He presented his invaluable collection of book marks to the library, but could not bring himself to give the incunabula, which represented his entire fortune. Having had the collection appraised by numerous American experts, who agreed on its value of more than $3,000,000, he offered it to the American government for $1,500,000.

Representative Ross A. Collins [Dem., Miss.] became interested in the collection and sponsored the bill authorizing its purchase for the library of congress.

25,000 Conscripts Pledge Loyalty to Argentine Flag

[Copyright: 1930: By the New York Times.]

BUENOS AIRES, July 6.—Twenty-five thousand conscripts to the army and navy swore allegiance to the flag today in all parts of the Argentine republic and board all naval units as part of the celebration of the 114th anniversary of the declaration of independence, which ends Wednesday with the Nueve de Julio (9th of July), the second of Argentina's two annual independence days, the other being May 25.

DRY AGENT SLAIN AS AUTO QUITS IN COLORADO TOWN

Had Been Active Against Bootleggers.

Aguilar, Colo., July 6.—[Special.]—The eighteenth amendment had but little bearing on the drinking habits of Aguilar citizens until Dale F. Kearney, 30, aggressive federal prohibition agent, recently was placed in charge of enforcement in this district.

One month ago Kearney staged the first big liquor raid here since prohibition went into effect, confiscating a huge distillery and arresting John Kajfosh, reputed head of a booze syndicate which supplies a large part of southern Colorado.

Today Kearney was killed by a shotgun charge, fired at close range by an unidentified assailant, who, it is believed, a short time before had talked to Kearney by telephone in Trinidad and lured him here that he might be put on the spot.

Car Stalls on Trip.

Kearney left Trinidad for Aguilar, which is 22 miles northwest, last night without informing any one of his plans. His car stalled just as he reached here, and he telephoned a Trinidad garage to send a tow car. Apparently he feared to ask assistance of any one here.

As he sat in his car his assailant crept behind a board fence a few feet away and fired.

There has been much resentment throughout this section over Kearney's raids. Recently there were 20 men in jail in Walsenburg, near here, for prohibition law violations, and Kearney had been instrumental in the arrest of each.

Federal Agent 13 Months.

Kearney, who was a world war veteran and who had been decorated for bravery during the war, became a federal agent thirteen months ago. Befor he was transferred here from Denver, his former headquarters, he is said to have antagonized influential liquor interests there.

John F. Vivian of Denver, in charge of this district, dispatched three agents from Pueblo, Colo., to investigate the killing. They are led by James L. White.

Kearney leaves a widow and two daughters, 4 and 8 years old.

91 TOMORROW

JOHN D. ROCKEFELLER.

Tarrytown, N. Y., July 6.—[Special.]—John D. Rockefeller will be 91 years old Tuesday. A printed statement issued in New York City, however, will be his only word to the outside world of his well wishers on the occasion. Those who attempt to carry their felicitations to his Pocantico Hills estate, Tarrytown, will be courteously but firmly denied admittance to his vast estate.

Reported in superb health, the oil magnate will pass the day quietly. He will arise at 8 a. m., an hour later than usual, and after breakfast and half an hour of dictation to his secretary, will spend two hours on his private golf course in combat with certain of his old time golf foes among the village merchants. Even at his advanced age, Rockefeller shoots a good game, and gets a great kick out of a win.

Due to the absence of John D. Rockefeller Jr. in the west, the usual birthday dinner will be a small one. Mrs. Rockefeller Jr. will be present with several of her children, as will the former Abbie Rockefeller, her husband, David Milton, and their daughter, little Abbie.

Bedtime at about 10 p. m. will wind up the birthday celebration of the reputedly world's richest man.

PLAN CAMPAIGN OF 5 YEARS' DRY LAW PROPAGANDA

15 Millions to Be Spent on Schools, Radio, Etc.

Washington, D. C., July 6.—[Special.]—A $15,000,000 campaign, extending over five years and designed to sell prohibition to the United States through propaganda in schools, churches, luncheon clubs, and other strategic centers, is outlined in Anti-Saloon league documents made a part of the record of the senate lobby investigation committee since that group concluded its hearings.

Like Utilities Methods.

The procedure outlined is similar to that resorted to by public utilities interests and uncovered by the federal trade commission's investigation. It includes a system of keeping in touch with teachers, student leaders, ministers, and other "good people" in strategic positions, and utilization of the radio, personal visits, and propaganda disseminated through newspapers and by motion pictures.

Reveal League Politics.

These league records all relate to events subsequent to those disclosed by the Reed committee investigation in 1926. They reveal some of the league's plans with relation to the 1928 presidential campaign, including a formal notice served on President Coolidge in 1927 that a dry must be nominated. Some documents, however, the titles of which indicate that they would be important among the league's practical activities are missing from the files.

The league's propaganda campaign, which was to be carried on in cooperation with the World League Against Alcoholism, is outlined in documents relating to the meeting of the Anti-Saloon league administrative committee in New York, Feb. 20, 1928.

MEXICO CABINET SEEKS TO SOLVE FARM LAND MESS

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

MEXICO CITY, July 6.—President Ortiz Rubio and his cabinet will meet Thursday to discuss ways and means of settling the agrarian problem once and for all. Upon its solution depends Mexico's reconstruction after two decades of revolutions. The session coincides with the arrival of Ambassador Dwight W. Morrow, who has keenly interested himself in the settlement of the land muddle.

Reorganization of the finances of the Mexican national railways and an effort to stabilize the national treasury hinges upon a satisfactory solution. It is stated that only by erasing the agrarian mess can Mexico hope to find a way to satisfy creditors abroad.

The cabinet will also study means of returning to Mexico 10,000 jobless Mexicans in American border states. With employment in Mexico on the gain, the department of interior predicts that 300,000 Mexican laborers now in the United States will return by the end of the year.

SWANSON URGED TO INVESTIGATE LINGLE RUMORS

Col. R. R. McCormick Asks Questioning of Brundidge.

The following letter was sent to State's Attorney John A. Swanson yesterday by Col. R. R. McCormick, publisher of The Tribune:

"Dear Mr. Swanson:

"When Lingle was murdered four weeks ago I offered assistance to the prosecution by putting at your disposal Mr. Charles Rathbun, an experienced lawyer, whom you formerly honored with the offer of a permanent appointment in your office. This offer was accepted and under your direction Mr. Rathbun has organized and carried on an investigation. We have given him every assistance in our power and through the indorsements on the pay checks of Lingle found where he had been banking and with the public spirited coöperation of the bank secured details of his bank accounts which may furnish the clew which will capture his murderer and may furnish avenues into the gang-land jungle.

"It is natural that during such investigation a multitude of rumors should have arisen, many of them highly imaginative, it would seem, but some of them very definite and strongly supported. In fact, the names of certain newspaper officials have been bandied around until they are popularly accepted as guilty.

Full Investigation Asked.

"It seems to me in justice to these men full investigation should be made to establish the innocent and the guilty and also to free from the entire profession the stigma which has been created by the wide dissemination of rumors of all kinds.

"In addition to the official investigators there have been a number of amateurs at work, among them Mr. Barry T. Brundidge, a writer for the St. Louis Star, who asserts that he has unearthed much incriminating evidence. He has written two stories for his newspaper, the St. Louis Star, which have been reproduced in THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE, a reproduction of which is herewith inclosed."

"The revelations of the last few weeks have been distressing to many of us. We wish the matters exposed had never occurred. We tend to wish that soiled linen be not washed in public, but out of so much evil a greater good may come. The activities of Lingle and men of his stripe are like paths leading into the forest of crime which hitherto have proven reckless. By following them the whole criminal organization which has Chicago by its throat may be surrounded and destroyed.

Urges Brundidge Be Questioned.

"Therefore, it is my opinion that Mr. Brundidge should be interrogated and that all probable clews disclosed by him should be mercilessly followed up regardless of where they lead. To do this work will demand a larger personnel than that now engaged. It is not within the capacity of Mr. Rathbun to increase his activities without diverting himself from his principal duty, the discovery of the circumstances of Mr. Lingle's murder and of the persons guilty of that crime.

"I therefore suggest that further examination into the rumors aroused by this case be carried on by your regular staff or by special counsel competent to make such investigation.

"Sincerely yours,
"ROBERT R. MCCORMICK."

TOLL OF FOURTH MOUNTS TO FOUR AS TWO MORE DIE

The toll of Fourth of July fatalities in Chicago was raised to four yesterday by the deaths of Edith Jebesleze, 4 years old, 1143 South Kedzie avenue, and Stanley Tirstanus, 17 years old, 714 West 14th street.

The little girl was playing with several other children in a vacant lot near her home last Friday. Her dress caught fire from fireworks which the children were exploding. Her cries brought her mother, who beat out the flames. She was taken to the Mount Sinai hospital.

Stanley was listening on the Fourth to a broadcast of a baseball game in his home. His friend, John Ukobowski, 17 years old, 1733 West 14th street, jokingly said he would shoot the announcer with a .22 caliber revolver which the two had been firing. The pistol was discharged and Stanley fell with a bullet in his chest. John told his story at a coroner's inquest and was exonorated.

BOMB SOUTH SIDE FLAT BUILDING.

A bomb was exploded early yesterday in the basement of a three story apartment building at 6158 Vernon avenue. The damage was estimated at $50.

HAVE YOU SEEN THIS MAN?

These are rogues' gallery pictures of George (Red) Barker, who has served terms in two penitentiaries for robbery and was a defendant in a murder trial. Recently he took control of the coal teamsters' union through gunplay and now controls a string of unions. He is one of those named by the crime commission as a "public enemy."

POLICE DECIDE REESE NEEDS NO HOSPITAL GUARD

Reporter Not Shot At, Is Belief.

Chief of Police C. S. Rowe of De Kalb said yesterday that he had concluded that Leland H. Reese, crime reporter for the Chicago Daily News, was in no danger as long as he stays in the Glidden Memorial hospital at De Kalb. He said the man who on Saturday said his name was Kasparson and who stated he was employed by the Chicago Newspaper Publishers' association was in reality an operative of the Hargrave Secret service.

Reese, with a man who gave the name of Allen Finley, and Ed Braun, who was first introduced as Mr. Walters, was injured in an automobile accident early Friday morning near De Kalb. Finley was said by some officials at De Kalb to be a Chicago policeman, but others denied it. Braun, a former circulation department employé, was reported to be Reese's bodyguard.

Chief Rowe said he was convinced no one had shot at the Reese party and he couldn't understand how any one had "pushed" the Reese car off the road. Had another car figured in the accident, Chief Rowe said, the Reese car would naturally have gone off the road to the right instead of going into a ditch at the left side of the road.

The request of Reese for protection from Chicago gangsters who might go there to kill him recalled a visit he made to Rockford ten days ago. According to newspapermen who knew him when he worked there on the sporting desk of the Register-Gazette, a newspaper owned by Lieut. Gov. Fred Sterling, he had two bodyguards and could not be induced to leave his room. His actions there were called mysterious.

Under Guard in Town.

Previously he had been reported in Cedar Rapids, Ia., under the same circumstances and he had obtained the protection of a detective bureau squad the afternoon of the Lingle murder. A fellow reporter of the News speaking for Reese yesterday said Reese did not believe himself to be hunted by gangsters. His former relationship with Julius Rosenheim, who was killed Feb. 1 because of alleged shakedowns, had nothing to do with Reese's absence from Chicago, the other reporter stated.

ATLANTA ALDERMAN WHO RELEASED 268 FACES IMPEACHMENT

Atlanta, Ga., July 6.—(AP)—J. Allen Couch, Atlanta's big hearted alderman who freed 268 prisoners in a gesture of independence while acting as mayor on the Fourth of July, tonight faced possible impeachment.

Ald. G. Everett Millican announced he probably would begin impeachment proceedings at the next meeting of the city council, charging that Couch exceeded his authority.

Police spoke their displeasure at Couch's action and continued to rearrest as many of the prisoners as they could on old charges.

Couch, who incidentally is under indictment on a charge of bribery which grew out of exposure of wholesale graft in municipal affairs, served as mayor while I. N. Ragsdale, regular head of the city government, was in New York welcoming Bobby Jones home.

When Ragsdale arrived home yesterday he promptly issued a criticism of Couch, but said he could do nothing. "I don't think he had a moral right to take such action," he said.

James L. Mahson, city attorney, said:

"Clearly many of the men were freed illegally, but we cannot put them back in jail on the same charges. We can do nothing about that, but the party who pardoned them can be impeached for exceeding his authority."

COMPLETE PLANS FOR RECEPTION OF ADMIRAL BYRD

Final plans for the reception of Rear Admiral Richard E. Byrd, the antarctic explorer, who will be Chicago's guest next Friday, were announced yesterday.

Two hundred members of the Lions club, the 50 piece boys' band of the Auburn Park Lions, and a delegation from the Press club will greet Admiral Byrd's party at the Union station and escort him to the Stevens hotel.

Among prominent members of the reception committee, as named, are: Frederick H. Rawson, David R. Forgan, Joshua d'Esposito, C. R. Walgreen, Charles F. Glore, Philip K. Wrigley, Stuyvesant Peabody, John T. McCutcheon, Homer Guck, Glenn Griswold, Rear Admiral Walter S. Crosley, and Maj. Gen. Frank Parker.

Seize Alleged Bank Bandit Wanted in Several Cities

Wilbur William Hand, 34 years old, sought as a bank robber by the police of several cities under the aliases of William Steel, William Herney, William Hannin, and William Heeney, was arrested yesterday in the home of an aunt at 6230 Laflin street. Sergts. Arthur Katt and Edward Wallen seized him in bed as he lunged for his clothing. A revolver was found in his clothes. The police say he has a criminal record in several states. He is to be turned over to Bucyrus, O., authorities, who have wired that they will send four policemen for him today.

DIES IN BARREL IN ATTEMPT TO SHOOT NIAGARA

Niagara Falls, N. Y., July 6.—(AP)—George Stathakis was suffocated in the barrel in which he attempted to navigate the rapids above Niagara falls and plunge over the cataract, according to Coroner W. W. Thompson of Niagara Falls, Ont. The body was removed from the barrel this afternoon. The barrel, intact, was sighted this morning. It was bumping against the rocks on the Canadian side of the river.

William [Red] Hill, veteran riverman, and his son William Jr. descended into the gorge and after much difficulty the barrel, weighing more than a ton, was taken to the Canadian shore. It was floating end up, but the manhole through which Stathakis entered was on the submerged end.

Stathakis' body was found still strapped to a mattress which he had designed as a buffer against the side of the barrel. Coroner Thompson expressed the belief that he had been dead ten or twelve hours.

If Coroner Thompson's diagnosis is correct, Stathakis was a prisoner in the barrel, held back by the curtain of water of the falls for several hours, before he died. His supply of oxygen was good for only about three hours.

POLICE TO SEIZE DRUGGAN AS HE LEAVES HOSPITAL

Considered Key Witness in Gang Shootings.

$55,825 IN REWARDS.

Rewards totaling $55,825 are offered for information leading to the arrest and conviction of the slayer of Alfred Lingle, Tribune reporter. The information should be sent to the headquarters established by State's Attorney Swanson in room 503 Temple building, 77 West Washington street. Telephone State 3729.

Hospital reports that George Druggan has practically recovered from gunshot wounds inflicted at Fox Lake on June 1 brought statements yesterday from officials that he would be questioned about a series of murders. He, with Frank Foster, who is to be extradited from Los Angeles, and Jack Zuta, who is being sought, are regarded as key witnesses in a number of killings, including the murder of Alfred Lingle, TRIBUNE reporter.

State's Attorney A. V. Smith of Lake county said yesterday he expected the Chicago police to take Druggan into custody when he is discharged from the University hospital this week. Druggan and Mrs. Vivian Ponic McGinnis, wife of a Chicago lawyer, were wounded at the time of the murder of Sam Pellar, Michael Quirk, and Joseph Bertsche in a Fox Lake hotel and though Druggan was shot through the body he will be able to leave the hospital in a few days, an interne declared yesterday. Mrs. McGinnis, too, is recovering.

Seen as Part of New War.

The shooting at Fox Lake was believed at the time to be an incident of a newly declared gang war that began with the murder of Joe Blue, a former pickpocket, mail robber and ex-convict who had joined Druggan's beer gang. Ten Sicilians were killed within a few weeks of the Blue murder and an inter-racial feud among gangsters was understood to be raging. The day before the Fox Lake shooting Philip Ignolfo was slain and Guili Carmelo and Joe Fianca, members of a Sicilian faction, were wounded. Police said this was in reprisal for the murder of Blue.

After the triple murder in the Lake county resort the body of Thomas Somnerio, another Sicilian, was found in a west side alley and police saw a connection between his death and the Fox Lake affray.

Prosecutor Smith was told that Robert Long, uncle of the Druggan boys; Frank Quirk, brother of Michael; Lefty Shottinger, Druggan's chauffeur, and Eugene [Red] McLaughlin were members of Druggan's party at the time a machine gun was turned loose on them. He obtained warrants for all of them.

Find McLaughlin's Body.

A few days later McLaughlin's body was taken from the drainage canal and there was some difference of opinion as to how long it had been in the water but the concensus was that McLaughlin had been killed before June 1. Police were trying to connect all these murders when Lingle was killed on June 9.

Detectives said all the principal gangsters fled town after the Lingle murder and the only gang flareup was in the attempt last Tuesday to kill Jack Zuta, panderer, who joined the Bugs Moran-Joe Aello gang. Zuta's assailants escaped in a cloud of smoke pouring from the rear of their car. Zuta disappeared.

Yesterday Detectives Rocco Filletti and William Balzano came upon a machine they believe may have been used by Zuta's assailants. It belonged to William Francis, 716 Buckingham place, whom they arrested on Navy pier and who they said was a member of the small gang of Thomas Abbott, alleged dope fiend who handled small jobs for Bugs Moran. The car had been smashed up some and a rag was found in its vacuum tank. A garage attendant said this rag might have been used in creating the smoke screen.

Francis Is Questioned.

Francis was questioned last night and police hope to keep him in custody or under heavy bond till Zuta is located. Zuta was associated in criminal exploits with Foster, whose gun was used to kill Lingle, and the detectives hope to have him in custody when Foster is brought here. It was expected the extradition papers would be ready today, but Foster gave notice he might resist extradition by asking a writ of habeas corpus.

Bernard O'Donnell, member of the west side gang which so far has kept out of the war of the last month, is slated for trial today on charges of carrying a gun, and following his trial, George Barker and William "Three Finger Jack" White face a jury on the same charge. They were arrested together two months ago.

AMATEURS MAY SEE 'EM, BUT ONLY PRO CAN CATCH RATTLESNAKES

Harlingen, Tex., July 6.—[U.P.]—Amateurs don't stand a chance when it comes to catching rattlesnakes.

That was proved today when Gregorio Cortez, who classes himself a professional, caught five snakes in 29 seconds during a contest at a celebration in Port Isabel.

The best an amateur could do was to snare five of the venomous reptiles in 65 seconds. That was the record of Augustine Gonzales.

Today's contests were the preliminaries, the finals being scheduled for tomorrow. The snakes had to be caught by the head. None of the contestants was injured.

MAY SLOW DEBT RETIREMENT TO BEAT TAX RAISE

Hoover Insistent Against Any Increase.

BY ARTHUR CRAWFORD.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., July 6.—[Special.]—Slowing down of public debt retirements may be resorted to as a means of insuring the continuation of the reduced income tax rates of the present year. If President Hoover and Secretary of the Treasury Mellon fail to recommend such action congress is likely to give serious consideration to a change in policy of this character at next winter's session of congress.

Against Tax Increase.

That the President and Secretary Mellon will try to devise some means to prevent a return to the old tax rates, which automatically become effective on earnings of the present year, payable next year unless new legislation is enacted, is a certainty.

Regardless of threatened deficits it is known that the President feels that as a means of aiding business recovery it is imperative that there should be no increase in taxes.

Secretary Mellon, who agrees with the President on this point, prefers to retain the debt retirement policy which has been in effect in past years. If it is possible to keep present tax rates without incurring a deficit, he will propose no change in the debt retirement policy. As a last resort, however, it is believed that he may suggest a diversion of part of the funds that have been used to swell the huge totals announced each year as being devoted to debt retirement to the current expenditures fund.

Question of Policy.

The question of policy centers on the use of payments from foreign nations.

What has been proposed at different times but frowned upon by treasury officials has been the enactment of legislation providing for a credit against the statutory sinking fund of all amounts used from foreign debt payments in the retirement of our debt.

The effect of this would be to release an equivalent amount for current expenditures and to relieve taxpayers of that much burden.

RAIN AND HAIL RUIN FAMOUS WINE CROPS IN BORDEAUX REGION

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PARIS, July 6.—The violent storms which are sweeping all parts of France struck particularly hard at the Bordeaux wine region, where the crop in many districts was completely ruined. Near Barsac, where the sweet white wine of the same name is made, vineyards were damaged by heavy hailstones. The Medoc district escaped the hail but suffered heavily.

Today's storms climax one of the worst wine seasons in many years and a number of producers are already hard hit. In some ways the crop losses are not an unmixed evil. The French wine industry is suffering from overproduction owing to a long run of unusually good seasons, and the present bad season, by diminishing the supply, will boost prices and thus help the dealers at least.

From the gourmet's standpoint the season is nothing less than calamitous. While the overproduction applies only to the cheap table wine, the bad weather has hit the vintage crops. Wine bibbers are particularly upset over the report that this year's crop of Chateau Yquem, while not completely ruined, has had its flavor spoiled by the excessive rains.

Accuse Negro Law Student of Killing for Property

A. Frank Menard, Negro law student of 4734 South Park way, was arrested yesterday in connection with the death of Mrs. Julia Hawkins, 4114 Indiana avenue, also colored, who was found dead Saturday night, supposedly as result of a beating. Sergt. Chris Callahan, who arrested Menard and two others, William Moore and Sylvester Springer, accused Menard of instigating a plot for Mrs. Hawkins' death to gain control of property left her by her husband. Menard has been executor of the husband's estate.

HEARST STOCK ISSUE DETAILS ARE ANNOUNCED

$50,000,000 Block to Be in $25 Shares.

BY TOM PETTEY.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, July 6.—[Special.]—The plans of William Randolph Hearst for large scale refinancing of his 23 newspapers and 12 magazines will be announced tomorrow morning in half page newspapers advertisements. Two million shares of class A 7 per cent, cumulative participating stock of $25 par value will be offered to the public. Four hundred thousand shares of this issue have been reserved for officers and employés of the Hearst organization.

In the past, Hearst has financed his numerous properties by bond issues on his various publications. These issues now outstanding in public hands total more than $60,000,000. According to bankers here a large part of the bond load will be refinanced by the sale of the preferred stock.

Listing Authority Sought.

Application will be made, the advertisement states, to list this stock on the New York curb, and San Francisco and Chicago Stock Exchanges.

The exact terms of the offer as stated in the advertisement are that the stock is to be:

"Preferred as to regular dividends at the rate of 7 per cent per annum, cumulative from Sept. 15, 1930, payable quarterly March, June, September, and December 15. Entitled also to participate up to a maximum of 3 per cent per annum, ratably with the common stock, after the common stock has received $1.75 per share in any year. The participating dividend is payable simultaneously with any common dividend in excess of the annual rate of $1.75.

Option to Redeem Included.

"Redeemable as a whole or in part, at the option of the company, upon 30 days' prior notice, on any dividend rate, at $30 per share plus accrued unpaid regular and participating dividends. Preferred as to assets (subject to the prior rights of the then existing subsidiary bond and debenture holders) upon voluntary dissolution or liquidation, up to $30 per share, and in any involuntary dissolution or liquidation up to $25 per share; in each case plus accrued unpaid regular and participating dividends.

"No voting rights unless and until the company shall have failed to pay four consecutive regular quarterly dividend installments, whether declared or not, in which event the holders of the class A 7 per cent cumulative participating stock shall, during the continuance of the default, have the right to elect a majority of the board of directors."

Financing Body Formed.

The Hearst Consolidated Publications, Inc., the organization formed to conduct the financing plan, was formed last month in Delaware, with six million shares.

The 400,000 shares reserved for the employés has been reported to have been offered to them at $24 a share. The extent of the privilege to buy on that basis is based upon salary, ranging from 10 shares of the $1,500 a year employé to 2,000 shares for the $50,000 man.

The additional $50,000,000 class A stock authorized by the financing company, it was explained, is reserved for "the sole and exclusive purpose of redemption of or retirement by exchange of the outstanding bonds or debentures of the subsidiaries."

Funded Debt $38,543,500.

According to the prospectus the present outstanding funded debt of the subsidiaries of this corporation is $38,543,500. No mention is made as to whether this includes obligations of the Hearst-Brisbane Real Estate company.

The prospectus further states that the bonds or debentures "cannot be exchanged at a price greater for the bonds or debentures than their call price at the time of offer, and in any computation affecting the exchange of the company, class A stock must be computed at par.

The Continental Illinois Bank and Trust company is named as the Chicago institution which will handle the stock. The prospectus states the management of the subsidiaries will continue as at the present time.

What Prospectus Says.

When the Hearst Consolidated Publications, Inc., was incorporated in Dover on May 9 it announced its purpose to "acquire by purchase, subscription or otherwise shares of stock and to dispose of newspapers, magazines, periodicals, etc."

The stock prospectus now announces the organization has acquired through entire common stock ownership "eleven of the largest and most profitable newspapers owned by William Randolph Hearst—namely, the New York Evening Journal, Chicago Evening American, Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph, Detroit Times, San Francisco Examiner, San Francisco Call-Bulletin, Oakland Post-Enquirer, Los Angeles Examiner, Los Angeles Herald, Seattle Post-Intelligencer, and American Weekly.

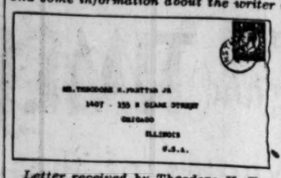
The combined net income of the newspapers referred to, according to the financing company, averaged $11,017,673 during the last four years after deducting interest charges on the outstanding funded debt, depreciation and federal income taxes. Net earnings for 1929 were given as $12,854,626.

The question of future Hearst ownership is only partially answered by the financing plan as he is retaining control of the voting stock. Hearst has five sons to whom he has been gradually delegating more and more authority in his publishing concerns.

The new holding company has made a special appeal to Hearst employes to buy shares in the concern on the installment plan over a 24 months' period.

INTERESTING LETTERS

If you have received a letter from an interesting or little known place send the envelope to The Tribune, stating name of place where it was mailed and some information about the writer of the letter.



Letter received by Theodore H. Freter Jr., 1309 Pratt boulevard, Chicago, Ill.

"The enclosed envelope," Mr. Freter writes, "brought a letter from the Island of Lundy [sometimes called Puffin island], located in the Bristol channel, England. It was mailed by F. W. Gade, postmaster of the island.

"This island is owned by Martin Coles Harmon, Esq., a London merchant who plays at being king of the island's forty inhabitants.

"This year a set of two stamps and two coins was issued for use on the island. These are in half and one puffin denominations, and both bear the likeness of a puffin [a sea bird with a parrot-like beak and white cheeks]. The island's primary excuse for existence is the fact that it possesses a lighthouse."

The island is three miles in length from north to south, while it is one mile in width. The hard granite found on the island was used in the construction of the Victoria embankment in London. The landing at the southeast extremity is guarded by a small body of land called Rat island. Marisco Castle, built during the reign of Henry II., still survives. Here the Marisco family lived lawlessly for a number of years until Sir William Marisco was hanged as the instigator of a plot directed against Henry III. It was later a refuge for French pirates during the seventeenth century.

POLICEMAN SHOT AT STORE; HELD FOR BURGLARY

Wounded as He Leaves Scene of Robbery.

Policeman Cyrus G. Brush, 32 years old, a member of the department since 1922, was booked last night on a charge of burglary at the Woodlawn station, out of which he travels, after he had been shot in the leg by Joseph Jerry, 7631 Rhodes avenue, a night watchman. He is in the Illinois Central hospital.

Jerry said he fired at Policeman Brush when he saw him emerging from a broken window of the South Shore Vogue shop, 2631 East 71st street, early yesterday morning with 19 women's dresses, valued at $300, under his arm. The watchman asserted he was on the second floor of the Cropper garage, 2306 East 71st street, getting gas for his car, when he heard a crashing of glass and the sound of a burglar alarm.

Watchman Tells Story.

"I ran downstairs," he told Lieut. Michael Lahart of the Woodlawn station, "and saw a man come out the window of the shop. He started down the street. I shouted at him to halt. He kept on going and I shot. I heard him say, 'Jerry, don't shoot. I'm a police officer.' I recognized Brush."

Brush's story was that he had gone to a pumping station at 68th street and Oglesby avenue to get some filtered water. At 71st he heard glass crash and went to investigate. He was just leaving when Jerry came along, he said. He had no explanation when Lieut. Lahart asked him about the dresses.

The case will be called in the felony court today, but it is expected a continuance will be asked because Brush will be unable to leave the hospital.

Prominent Police Athlete.

Lieut. Lahart said Brush had an excellent record and had been especially active in athletics, winning many points at the annual police field meets. Brush is married and lives at 7255 Yates avenue.

Jerry was shot five times in May of 1929 while trying to frustrate a south side store robbery. His assailants were later identified as the killers of two west side druggists during holdups.

Two More Slain in Alabama Race Row; Total Dead Now 6

Emelle, Ala., July 6.—(AP)—Two Negroes slain early today by posses searching for four others in connection with the killing of two white men, brought to six the deaths growing out of the disorders arising here on the Fourth of July when a Negro shot a white garage owner in a dispute over payment for a battery.

Quiet again prevailed late today, with roving bands of more than 200 men quitting the hunt after a night of running down wild reports that the four Negroes had been sighted at various places. Leaders said they were convinced the Negroes, Tom Robertson and his sons, Esau, Ollie, and John, have fled into Mississippi.

Those killed early today were an unidentified Negro, in the railway station at Narchetta, Miss., and a Negro woman whose husband, James Eyer, failed to heed a command of a posse to bring his automobile to a stop on a road near the Alabama-Mississippi state line.

The previous death list included: Grover Boyd, white, storekeeper; Charlie Marrs, a white farmer; John Robertson, Negro, brother of Tom; Jacob Robertson.

The Negro killed at Narchetta was shot after he fired at the possemen and wounded Clarence Bush of Emelle in the elbow. Bush returned the fire, killing the Negro. Members of the posse said they had found the Negro in the station house and had sought to search him. Ordered to raise his hands, he opened fire instead.

New Invention For Feet

Many people have learned to their sorrow that their foot troubles were made worse by arch-supports and braces that were painful, weakening and habit-forming—or by elastic bands which restricted circulation or by queer, frank shoes which scarred nature's.

POSTURE TREADS (custom built to your foot measurements) are different and genuinely corrective because they are built on sound principles and strike at the fundamental causes of all static foot disorders.

More than 250,000 people now wear Feet, no-metal foot correctives designed by Kernan since 1915 — more than 50,000 in Chicago alone.

A demonstration of POSTURE-TREADS, the newest improvement in scientific foot correctives by Kernan, amazes and convinces the most skeptical. Many, including Physicians, say the demonstration alone is worth real money.

Light, custom-built POSTURE-TREADS are unchangeable from one pair of shoes to another. Price per pair $5.00—no other charges. Delivered within three days after order. Each pair sold on TWO WEEKS TRIAL—money back if not satisfied.

have aroused suspicion. Nevertheless, no one believes the duce would deliberately undertake any aggressive operations against a neighboring state.

Considered Too Clever.

The Fascist leader is considered too clever for such elementary tactics, which, it is believed, would consolidate the rest of the world against Italy and force the league to side with the attacked power.

But Mussolini is considered capable of winking at secret operations which his fanatic lieutenants might contemplate, and which might eventually develop into a raid into foreign territory, and an effort to make the capture of such territory a fait accompli.

D'Annunzio grabbed Fiume and the Italian flag still floats over the Adriatic port. Mussolini landed at Corfu and would still be there for all of the league had it not been that he received word the British government had ordered its Mediterranean fleet to steam from Gibraltar and Malta. Zeligowski, Pilsudski's principal general, snapped up Vilna from Lithuania, and still holds it.

Natives Sigh for "Freedom."

Nice and its hinterland has a population of about 200,000. A majority are of Italian descent, and a majority of those profess to be ardent Fascists or autonomists. They sigh for the good old days before 1860, when France took over the region, and yearn for the time when they will be "free" again.

The Wall street crash has a responsibility, too. Since the market disaster of last autumn, with the ruined winter season and the dull spring and lifeless summer, with no American tourists to speak of to spend their dollars, the natives of Nice are more dissatisfied than ever.

Military experts here assert that a determined force of 6,000 or 8,000 men could seize Nice and hold it for a long time against recapture from a largely superior force, especially if the "Liberators" wished to spare the city from the damage of bombardment and gunfire, and to respect the safety of the noncombatant population.

France Takes Safeguards.

Military experts believe that a force of 6,000 or 8,000 men could be moved rapidly in a surprise operation from ports within four or five hours distance to Nice under cover of darkness and the city would wake up to find itself occupied.

In view of these disquieting reports and the freedom with which the Italian press and, to some extent, the French press, too, comments on these matters, the Paris government has taken certain seps to safeguard the situation.

Two divisions of destroyers, including the fast and powerful units launched during the last two years, have been transferred by the ministry of marine to Nice and Villefranche, east of the Toulon base.

Replacements have been made in the army garrisons stationed along the Riviera, and young troops, undergoing military training, just reduced to one year, have been superseded by veteran units and by sections of the national gendarmerie, all recruited from non-coms of the army.

The evacuation of the Rhineland has helped to make these new dispositions without exciting too much attention because of the need for a general reorganization of the location of all the troops in France. Thus, the 14th and 15th army corps areas have been reenforced by troops from the Rhineland, including some black elements from Morocco and Algeria.

Strengthening of strategic points along the Riviera has been going on for several years, since the 1925 scare, and this work is now being hurried along to completion. It includes the emplacement of several new batteries commanding tempting spots for landing parties, sheltered beaches, quiet coves, and other spots.

The equipment of the defensive organization in the entire region has been brought right up to date. Artillery units have the latest and most refined models of pieces, with plenty of light stuff for operations in mountainous and hilly country, and with motorized sections for rapid movement.

New machine gun sections of the powerful big guns, motorized, too, and tanks, the latest types of cross-country machines as well as heavier ones for more serious tasks, are here in profusion.

Across the Mediterranean, defensive work is also going on in Tunis, the fortifications of the principal ports are being rushed to completion, and the necessary material is being transported across from France as fast as it is ready. Gas masks and steel helmets are in the depots ready for distribution, and that indicates that it is no attack by unfriendly natives which is being prepared for.

OUTLAW MILITARY OCCUPATIONS, GERMAN LEADER URGES WORLD

[Copyright: 1930: By the New York Times.]

KARLSRUHE, July 6.—The outlawry of the occupation of peaceful territory by a belligerent is proposed as a logical extension of the Kellogg pact by Prof. Willy Hellpach, Democratic leader and one of the candidates for the presidency in the election of 1925. Speaking here in commemoration of the complete evacuation of the Rhineland, Hellpach designated the defeat of "Machiavellism" in politics as an historic episode, inasmuch as this doctrine had reduced Europe to a continent of secondary importance.

"German policies, which accomplished the liberation of the Rhineland, represent the 'non-Machiavellian' statesmanship, which strove for ethical aims, with the aid of purely objective means," he said. "Through their successful adoption Stresemann became for the world an example as a statesman."

He appealed to the German government to take the initiative for bringing about abolition of military occupation of a peaceful civilian area by any one belligerent. Occupation, he said, "is a gangrenous appendix on twentieth century international law."

Goodyear-Zeppelin Not Yet Heard From.

Houston, Tex., July 6.—(AP)—At a late hour tonight only one balloon remained unheard from of the fleet of fifteen which sailed away from here late Friday afternoon in a race to produce two winners to team up with Ward Van Orman in the international race starting from Cleveland Sept. 1. Van Orman already is an entrant in the international by virtue of finishing first in that race last year.

The one not heard from is the Goodyear-Zeppelin of Akron, O., piloted by the youthful R. J. Blair. It was assumed the bag was drifting somewhere over Kentucky or Tennessee.

Cleveland Balloon Down.

The United Van Service balloon of Cleveland landed at Kirkmansville, Ky., 150 miles southwest of Louisville, late today, according to a report received here. It was piloted by George Hineman.

Ten had come down within seventy-five miles of Texarkana, Tex.; one settled to earth approximately 325 miles northeast of there, and two were down in a region about 75 miles from Nashville, Tenn.

Of those which had descended, the Detroit Times, piloted by E. J. Hill, appeared to have gone the greatest distance. Hill, with Aide A. C. Schlosser, was down five and a half miles south of Russellville, Ky., about 775 miles northeast of Houston.

Navy Boys Do Well.

Apparently in second place were two navy boys, Lieuts. T. G. W. Settle and R. G. Mayer, who sank to earth seven miles north of Dover, Tenn. Russellville is some eighty miles northeast of Dover.

Another navy contestant, Lieut. W. Bushnell, came down at Piggott, Ark., around 100 miles west of Dover. Bushnell had Lieut. J. A. Greenwald in the basket with him; Hineman had Milford Vanik, and Blair has F. A. Trotter.

CLARA M. CODD.

Theosophists of this country will gather at Wheaton for the forty-fourth annual convention of the society today. The meeting will continue through Tuesday. CHINESE TROOPS CRUSH REBELS IN FIVE DAY BATTLE

SHANGHAI, July 6.—(AP)—The government, hard pressed by rebel forces and bandit hordes, today gained another victory.

Advices said the government definitely crushed the Kwangsi province rebellion after a severe five day battle in southern Hunan province near the Kwangsi border. The Nationalists claimed they reduced the insurgent ranks from 25,000 to 10,000, the surviving rebels fleeing into Kwangsi. Government casualties also were heavy.

Banditry has broken out following the withdrawal of government troops to the northern Honan front, where a 13 day battle is believed to hold China's destiny.

WOUNDED IN QUARREL; DIES.

Carl Deimel, 34 years old, 821 North Clark street, a grocer, died yesterday in the Lakeview hospital of injuries received when he was struck over the head with a bottle during a quarrel on June 25 with John Harrington, 21 years old, 2515 Ward street, a salesman. Harrington is being held for the inquest.

What does your tape measure tell. . . .

Take your measurements today. How do they compare with the measurements of youth given here? Perhaps only your waist and hips need reducing. Perhaps it is your arms and ankles that tell the story of youth that has begun to slip away.

The wonderful thing about the Muscle Sense System, originated by Mr. White, is that it reduces any part of the body that is out of proportion—ankles, double chin, calves, bust, thighs, hips—or upbuilds them if they need developing.

Muscles Control Health and Youth

Keep the muscles young and the body will stay young. Muscle Sense is built on this scientific, well proved fact, and Mr. White has demonstrated its truth in thousands of cases. His 24 years of experience and university training in anatomy have perfected this unfailing method that has brought back youth and vitality and figure beauty. Muscle sense keeps the heart, liver, lungs, kidneys and intestines functioning properly, often preventing serious operations.

Muscle Sense is a health-builder, not a health-destroyer, like so many reducing methods. It employs no drugs, steam baths or starvation diets. It is natural, it is easy, it is interesting.

Golf, Tennis or Swimming

Golf, tennis or swimming are very good, but they alone will not give you the muscle tone that brings beauty and health. Summer is the best time for reducing weight. You lose more quickly and easily than at any other time. Our studios are cool and breezy—you'll find them very comfortable at all times.

You can feel free to come in and talk with Mr. White about your individual case without cost or obligation. Why don't you do it today?

TAKE UP NAVAL TREATY TODAY IN SPECIAL SESSION

Senators to Hear Hoover Message Upholding It.

ginia. He is to speak immediately following the reading of the President's message.

The opposition led by Senator Johnson will require the supporters of the treaty to explain the treaty paragraph by paragraph, in conformity with the rules of the senate. The debate, however, will revolve chiefly around the contentions of the opposition that the American delegation sacrificed parity with the British, the right of the United States to build the kind of cruisers required by the peculiar necessities of its national defense, and the superiority to Japan essential to the protection of American interests in the Pacific.

Johnson Offers a Parallel.

Much will also be made by the opposition of the condemnation of the treaty by the overwhelming majority of expert witnesses appearing before the foreign relations committee. Senator Johnson presents this point in the following "deadly parallel" recording those witnesses for and those against the treaty:

FOR—Secretary Stimson, Secretary Adams, Admiral Pratt, a written statement without examination or cross-examination of Admiral Yarnell.

AGAINST—Admiral Jones, Admiral Bristol, Admiral Chase, Admiral Pringle, Admiral Scofield, Admiral Reeves, Commander Train, Capt. Andrews, Admiral Coontz, Admiral Leahy, Admiral Hughes, Admiral Nulton, Admiral Hough, Admiral Day, Capt. Johnson, Admiral Standley, Admiral Taylor, Capt. Taussig, Admiral Rock, Admiral Wiley, Admiral Robison, Capt. Knox.

Lists Hoover Good Will Deeds.

Representative Henry W. Temple [Rep., Pa.], the new chairman of the house committee on foreign affairs, in a statement today placed the navy limitation treaty at the head of ten accomplishments by Mr. Hoover "in the field of development of good will between the United States and other nations." The ten items listed are:

"1. Negotiations of the London naval limitation treaty.

"2. American adherence to the protocol of the world court under amendments designed to meet the senate reservations.

"3. Proclamation of the Kellogg-Briand treaty.

"4. Completion of war debt negotiations and the settlement with France, Austria and Germany of war debts and obligations.

"5. The President's prelnaugural good will mission to Central and South America.

"6. Assistance rendered Mexico in speedily ending the armed revolt in that country early in 1929.

"7. Settlement of the Tacna-Arica dispute between Chile and Peru.

"8. Manning of the Latin-American missions with chiefs of mission appointed almost without exception from the service.

"9. Appointment to the major posts in Europe of diplomats of long service, or men of senatorial experience familiar with the processes of American government and information.

"10. Adoption of a new policy in dealing with Haiti under which a new local government was set up, and the gradual withdrawal of American marines was decided upon."

HUNGARY FIGHTS MOVE TO PLACE OTTO ON THRONE

Premier Bethlen Bares Nation's Stand.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BUDAPEST, Hungary, July 6.—On the eve of the first visit an Austrian chancellor has paid Hungary since the dissolution of the Hapsburg empire, Count Stephen Bethlen, prime minister of Hungary, today broke the silence he has maintained for eight years and announced for the first time that his government would not permit a new putsch, now or later, to bring young Archduke Otto, now studying in Brussels, back to the vacant throne.

Driven by accusations that his recent visits to Rome and London were primarily to obtain permission from Italy and Great Britain to restore the Hapsburgs, and that the arrival of Chancellor Johann Schober of Austria here tomorrow had as its real purpose an effort to secure Austrian support for the archduke's return, Count Bethlen revealed the attitude of the government of which he is simi-dictator.

He pledged that the Hungarian government would oppose all efforts to restore the Hapsburgs.

"For 1,000 years the Hungarian parliament has enjoyed the rights to choose its own kings, and the present problem of the crown can only be solved by that parliament, independent of influences from abroad," said Count Bethlen. "The Hungarian government knows its duty in the matter and will use it with full force against any sort of a Hapsburg putsch."

Declaring bitterly that the foreign press had misrepresented the whole question by wily articles inspired by Hungary's unfriendly neighbors, Count Bethlen denied he even discussed the throne question at Rome or London.

He admitted that after traveling abroad he was convinced that not only the nations of the little entente, but also France, were still violently opposed to a return of the Hapsburgs.

"It is wrong to assume that they would not fight this energetically," he said. "The big powers have in no way changed their viewpoints."

The prime minister referred to the allied standpoint, based on the decision taken by the council of ambassadors in 1923, which was approved by the league of nations and forced through the Austrian and Hungarian parliaments, in which the Hapsburgs were excluded forever from Austrian and Hungarian thrones.

Count Bethlen stated that Regent Nicholas Horthy, whose name has been mentioned as favoring a Hapsburg coup d'état, backed the government's position.

While Count Bethlen broke his silence, the National Socialists at a massmeeting today resolved to unite all the anti-Hapsburg groups into one big party with the avowed intention of blocking the putsch they claim is planned for Nov. 22, when Archduke Otto becomes of age.

SUNBURN
Beach First Aid Stations Report

Chief Lifeguard McMonigle of Coney Island treating a sunburn case at First Aid Station.

Soothing, cooling Noxzema ends pain instantly

. . . doesn't stain clothes

WHEN FIRST AID STATIONS and Lifeguards at America's biggest beaches use Noxzema exclusively, you can rest assured that it's the best thing out for sunburn.

John McMonigle, director of lifeguards, Coney Island says, "For going on thirty years I've been a lifeguard or director of lifeguards. In all that time I never found a thoroughly satisfactory sunburn remedy till I tried Noxzema.

"This is the fifth season we've been using it in our First Aid Station here at Coney. It seems to cool and soothe and relieve the soreness and burning almost instantly. And you'd hardly believe how quickly it will heal even a bad burn."

Beach authorities at many other leading resorts like Atlantic City, Asbury Park and Long Beach have also found Noxzema the most effective remedy for sunburn. Don't suffer needlessly—get a jar today at any drug or department store.

GREASELESS—WILL NOT STAIN
Apply Noxzema freely—even before putting on dainty summer clothes. It is positively greaseless—cannot soil or stain.

65 CENT WHEAT CHIEF NEBRASKA POLITICAL ISSUE

Democrats Bank on Farm Uprising for Victory.

BY ARTHUR EVANS.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Lincoln, Neb., July 6.—Nebraska Democrats are banking on a 1930 corn belt uprising to give the Republicans a bumper crop of trouble in the November election. All the politicians are dwelling on 65 cent wheat and other falling farm prices as an argument likely to help the "outs" against the "ins." Farm relief is getting almost as much play as the tariff on which the politicians seem to be doing an anvil chorus.

Figures are being broadcast that since the farm board has been in existence cash wheat at Chicago dropped some 44 cents a bushel and other grains and live stock have also taken a nose dive. One estimate is that lower prices represent a loss to Nebraska farmers of 25 million dollars on wheat and more than 50 million dollars on corn.

Await Hyde and Legge.

Unless there is an upward turn in price, the argument is being circulated that on the basis of present crop prospects Nebraska agriculture stands to receive perhaps 100 million dollars less for its products in 1930 than in 1929.

Politicians report that in many sections the suggestion of the farm board for reduced wheat acreage is not making such a hit, and they are awaiting with interest the coming tour of Chairman Alexander Legge of the farm board and Secretary of Agriculture A. M. Hyde, who are to have their opening meeting this week at Hastings.

Meanwhile the agricultural problem as a disturbing political factor finds Nebraska politics tangled over a movement among regulars, both Republicans and Democrats, to restore party lines which have gone haywire.

Politicians here have a favorite saying, "The two party system is shot to hell and gone in Nebraska." In the governorship contest at the Aug. 12 primaries, as well as in the senatorship, the question is being raised, "Who is a Republican."

Gov. Arthur J. Weaver is opposed for the Republican nomination by Harry O. Palmer of Omaha, who in 1928 as county chairman in Douglas county headed the party reorganization work that carried the county for Hoover.

Charles W. Bryan, brother of the late W. J. Bryan, a former governor and Democratic nominee for vice president in 1924, is entered in the Democratic primaries. He has one opponent, Anton H. Jensen, a former University of Nebraska professor, and "Brother Charley" seems to have a walkaway in the primaries.

Bank Act Is Issue.

Nebraska's bank guaranty act is among the state issues. The law was repealed, after the system blew up, leaving some 65,000 depositors holding the bag to the tune of some $20,000,000.

Gov. Weaver is being criticised because he appointed Ashton C. Shallenberger of Alma, former Democratic governor and congressman, as chief examiner of the investigation of the bank guaranty. Mr. Shallenberger as governor signed the bank guaranty law in 1909, and the criticism of Weaver is that he gave this place to a Democrat when he might have picked a Republican.

A constitutional amendment is to be voted on to authorize the legislature to levy a tax, which may run about 8 million dollars, to help the depositors. Mr. Bryan is assailing Gov. Weaver. Bank guaranty was a Democratic child, the offspring of the Oklahoma idea at the platform making at the Democratic national convention in Denver in 1908. "Brother Charley" say the constitutional amendment is all wrong because it would shift the burden from the shoulders of the bankers to the taxpayers.

Two years ago Mr. Bryan was defeated by Gov. Weaver by 77,000, but the Democrats ascribe this to the Hoover landslide, and this time they look for Bryan to win.

Mr. Palmer, in opposing Gov. Weaver in the Republican primaries, says his aim is to "restore the Republican party in Nebraska." He says what with Senator Norris bolting Hoover for Smith and Gov. Weaver fraternizing with Democrats, Nebraska cannot get even a smile from the White House. He calls Norris and Weaver "de facto" Democrats.

"I find," says Mr. Palmer, "to give the Republicans opportunity to say whether they believe in party government in this state rather than a government according to the whim or caprice of some individual officeholder."

Hits Long Faces in Politics.

Mr. Palmer's announcement, one of the most refreshing of its kind in many a moon, says there are too many "long faces, long coats, and long hair in politics."

"A man must occasionally laugh heartily, even though he be a governor," he says. "It is high time for rejuvenation. I believe that the unimportance of things cannot be exaggerated. It is time that men in public life regained a state of composure. This rushing about from one part of the state to another with ear pressed to the ground has thrown public men madly out of balance.

"I believe the Nebraska farmers will be glad to know I do not pretend to have a sure solution for their problem. In this I believe I am unique. I want to help all agriculturists get what they want if it is just and fair.

"I am sure all farmers have long since discovered that the remedies offered for their ills by office seekers are pure bunk. Personally, I believe in getting for agriculture economic equality. One must always remember that economics deals with human desires and their satisfaction. We of the farming region must first regain our self-respect.

"Free of All Factions."

"I am a thorough going party man and a Republican. I am not a member of any faction, though I know intimately Republicans of every kind. I have been on friendly terms with many Democrats of good character, such, for instance, as Gov. Arthur J. Weaver, Senator George W. Norris, and former Senator Gilbert M. Hitchcock."

Mr. Shallenberger, who served in congress six terms, was beaten two years ago by Fred G. Johnson, and the Democrats figure he will beat Mr. Johnson in November.

MILK helps the sun do its stuff

Everyone knows the value of sunlight. Babies grow faster and stronger—grown-ups keep healthy and well—when they get plenty of sunshine . . .

ONE reason for this, experts tell us, is that the sunlight puts into the body a precious something called Vitamin D—and Vitamin D in turn has the ability to fix or store up minerals in the body, as a reserve and a resistance against sickness and decay of teeth during the months when the sun is not so bright and beneficial. But the sun can't store up minerals if you don't give it the materials to work with. You must help by providing your family with food that contains minerals.

Milk is a store house for minerals. It is the surest supply of calcium or lime—also it contains phosphorus and some iron. (You get the rest from fresh vegetables.)

YOUR MILKMAN AND THE SUN ARE PARTNERS. The sun is ready to go to work for you. Have your milkman supply at least one quart of milk a day for each member of your family.

You will find another benefit, too, in using plenty of milk—you can save on your food bills. Milk has so much food value, and there is so little waste to it, that it is not only economical itself, but makes it possible to save on everything else.

In using the quart of milk for each member of the family, the children of course should drink four glasses a day apiece, and the grown-ups too—then there are many delightful ways of introducing milk into the diet: with cereals, in soups, sauces, puddings, desserts.

Help the sun to do its stuff this summer. Start today. Drink milk at home and when you eat away from home. Drink it with your lunch. Drink it at the golf or tennis club. Its benefits apply to people of all ages.

If you have no regular milkman to be partner to the sun, you are invited to talk to the Borden milkman serving your neighborhood, or to phone Franklin 3110.

THE SENATE IN SPECIAL SESSION.

President Hoover has called the senate in special session beginning today to dispose of the naval treaty. A number of the senators are passing up the chore and already are off on vacation trips, but the administration expects to be able to muster the necessary vote and obtain ratification. The elder statesmen are tired and the President is determined to avoid defeat on this issue. Senator Johnson, leading the minority, has presented a case against the agreement which will be hard to meet, but the advocates are not keeping to the naval argument. It is a state department and not a navy department treaty.

When President Hoover and Mr. MacDonald had their first conversations the American government was considering the American navy. It is known that Mr. MacDonald prepared himself to make concessions to some American demands. They involved bases, big cruisers and a balancing of battleship strength. The information which reached London concerning the prime minister's attitude revealed him as actually engaged in bargaining and he was cautioned not to wade too far out in the Rapidan. Evidently he collected himself admirably and subsequently whittled down all of Mr. Hoover's ideas until next to nothing remained of them.

Proponents of the treaty cannot show that any American naval proposals survived the London conference. The United States did not get a ship to equalize the advantage the British have in the Nelson and Rodney. The American delegates backed down on the big cruiser issue, which was the principal one they were to defend if they were to carry out the wishes of the navy and give the sailors a fleet with which they could guarantee the security of trade routes and overseas possessions. They accepted the British cruiser plan. They also reversed the decision of the Washington conference as to ratios and gave Japan increased strength. The ratio was based upon the American abandonment of far eastern fortifications. Japan's naval power was increased, but no consideration was given for it.

The agreement is not one which serves American naval purposes. It is not consistent with the avowed intentions of the conference. The opposition has pointed this out and has asked what are the purposes and there has been no satisfactory answer. Senator Johnson and his associates wanted the correspondence between the governments, but were told that the exchanges, although containing nothing serious or important which was not known, would cause embarrassment if made public. The majority in the senate seems to have accepted this explanation. There have been intimations that some of the dispatches contained references to persons thrown off without reflection as to how they would appear if made public and that it would be very embarrassing if the comments got out.

This may be true and it may also be true that the American negotiators kept their intentions and their understanding with the British out of the record and in the back of their heads. It is still the fact that what makes this naval treaty acceptable has not been made known. The senate, responsible for the treaty equally with the executive branch, apparently will not go far into the subject of intentions. It is taking Mr. Stimson's word for it that the treaty contains its own explanations and is sufficently informative for a decision.

The right of the senate to have all information pertinent to a treaty it is asked to ratify can be maintained with greater reason than can the administration position that essential documents can be withheld. Admittedly bad situations could be created by indiscreet senators playing hob with state documents, but it is notorious that worse ones have been made by statesmen committing their country to obligations of which the country is ignorant.

Grey did this in his dealings with France before the war. He had been able to deny, with technical accuracy, before the blow-up, that British obligations were involved, but a startled cabinet heard just before the war began that Great Britain was in up to its ears and that France was justified in expecting support. Possibly Grey himself did not realize the full import of his negotiations at the time he was making his nation the ally of France, but he saw it when the crisis came. The only hope peace had in these fateful preliminaries was that no nation should proceed upon a misapprehension of what was to follow, and some of them, notably Germany, did so proceed.

This pending treaty is a state department treaty and not a navy agreement seeking the best interests of the American naval protections. It could be the basis of an American and British naval alliance. That might be desirable but it would not be properly covered in an agreement purporting to equalize British and American naval strength and not doing so. Americans would not want such an alliance covered by a false front and attaching the United States as an auxiliary. There must be inferences drawn from unexplained appearances. The American government accepts British naval doctrines. The senate is asked to do so without knowing why.

CHINESE RESPONSIBILITIES.

The flogging of two American missionaries in China, it is reported, will be made a subject of protest by the state department. It should be, and the protest should be sharp, though it is not likely to have any immediate practical effect. The outrage took place in a part of China over which the Nationalist government has at present no control. It is said to have been committed by a local organization representing the wing of the Kuomintang, or Nationalist party, which has rebelled against the authority of the government centered at Nanking. It strongly suggests Russian influence, which dominates the left wing rebels of the Nationalist party now cooperating with anti-Nationalist forces in the north, although the latter are not communistic or pro-Russian in policy or sentiment.

It is only the latest of many sardonic inconsistencies in the Chinese situation that the American protest must be directed to that one of the several governments de facto in China which is least responsible for the offense and least able to punish the offenders. But that government is the one we have recognized and the only one with which we have formal diplomatic relations. Nevertheless the protest should be made, since our recognition of the Nationalist government was and must be based upon the assumption of that government's responsibility.

At the same time, though it is so obvious as to need no official emphasis, the inability of the Nanking government to prevent or penalize such outrages against Americans, within the limits of the authority it claims legally to represent, should be brought to the attention of Foreign Minister C. T. Wang, who, in Washington as in London, has been pressing for the abolition of extraterritorial rights and demanding an unreserved recognition of the sovereign independence of China under his government. Making due allowance for the domestic political considerations which induce Mr. Wang to show a patriotic zeal for freeing China from the limitations which extraterritoriality represents, his demands must be taken for their full face value in our official relations with his government and our very reasonable objections to them fortified with such concrete facts as events are constantly presenting. The American state department, expressing, we think, the disposition of the American people in general, has gone a long way toward meeting the wishes of the Nationalist government and has given it the most substantial proofs of its friendliness to Chinese national aspirations. But the persistent pressure for the surrender of such legal protection as the security of foreign life and property possesses under treaties should be met by an equally persistent insistence upon the realities of the present situation in China. Sovereign independence implies responsibility.

THE TARIFF AS AN INTERNATIONAL GRIEVANCE.

Reports from abroad indicate that the tariff was a sour note in the observance given the Fourth of July in several countries where it has been the custom to pay some compliments to the United States on its birthday anniversary, in France and Italy particularly. It is not apparent that the critics know what they are talking about or that it is of any importance to know. The revision was unnecessary, in the opinion of many Americans. The internal affairs of the country would have been better off if the question had not been opened up. The tariff policies of the Republican party were in effect and would have been continued. There would have been less uncertainty if the schedules had stood as they were. The economics of the country were not improved by political disturbance.

Unfortunately, also, many other countries were waiting for a new opportunity to make trouble for a land which they thought was having too good a time and enjoying too much prosperity. They were not particular as to what the opportunity was. Anything would do which opened a way to a combination of sentiment against the big fellow. They do not know how the tariff will work. France always has had dividends out of American prosperity and is at the present time prosperous itself. President Hoover has given assurances that tariff adjustments will be made in fair dealing, but evidently what the complainants want is a grievance, and the tariff is the best one they can find.

Editorial of the Day

CALL THIS FELLOW!

[Chicago Evening Post.]

A St. Louis reporter sent here to write Chicago gang blood and thunder for his paper as a result of the murder of Alfred [Jake] Lingle, TRIBUNE reporter, whose strange financial dealings with policemen, politicians, and hoodlums have suffered post-mortem exposé, says he knows of wholesale racketeering by Chicago newspaper men.

Harry T. Brundige of the St. Louis Star, in an article joyfully published in THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE, among other things, writes:

Of an unnamed Chicago reporter who is "unofficial mayor of Chicago."

Of another unnamed Chicago reporter who is "paid 5 cents on every sack of cement sold here." [This would amount to a vast sum of graft.]

Of the "lottery racket" of a newspaper man who "went south" with $50,000 of "sucker money."

Of "numerous other rackets being worked on a wholesale scale by Chicago newspaper men."

Reporter Brundige gives no names, cites no dates, and offers no substantiating facts, but he writes: "If called, the writer will give a Chicago grand jury the name, newspaper connection, and bill of particulars" concerning at least one newspaper racketeer.

The Post Thursday asked Pat Roche, investigator of the state's attorney, if Brundige and his exploiters would be called to make good on the proffered testimony. Roche shook his head no.

Why do not State's Attorney Swanson, Charles F. Rathbun, TRIBUNE attorney acting as special prosecutor in the Lingle matter, and Pat Roche force Brundige to make good under oath his dare?

CORRECTING AMERICAN DIET.

AGNES F. MORGAN and M. M. Barry found themselves in a state of mind about certain trends in the American diet. The land is one of plenty. There is food enough, and money enough to buy it, but somehow or other a considerable part of the population suffers from some form of food deficiency.

It is true that some do not get enough to eat and are undernourished, but that is another story. Every one knows the whys and the wherefores of that group. Not so with those who pay enough for food and who get enough of it, who nevertheless suffer from lime starvation because they do not get enough of the lime foods; those who eat well but who develop goiters because they do not get enough iron foods; and those who develop rickets, scurvy, and pellagra because of dietary errors.

The cause of the mental unrest of these ladies lay in still another field. The American diet is running increasingly to starches and sugars. These are carbohydrate foods and carbohydrates are the cheapest energy producing foods and, in addition, are easily digested. But one can commit dietetic errors even in the use of foods that are basically good. The error they diagnosed lay in the elimination of the germ from the flours, meals, and cereals made from grains. Grains from which the germ has been removed are poor in vitamin B.

They put two sets of children on diets. One contained plenty of ordinary breads and cereals. The others were on the same foods except that the germ had been left in the flour or cereal, or was added to it. The children on the wheat germ and flour foods put on weight about three times as fast as did the controls. They outgrew their competitors in height and stature at about the same rate. They had less acidosis.

There was no doubt but that the children fed the wheat germ along with other foods grew faster and generally thrived better. The authors are disposed to think the wheat germ children had better appetites, were less nervous, were better poised, and suffered less from constipation. The improvement was ascribed to the increased vitamin content of the diet because of the addition to it of wheat germ.

DATES AND INVERT SUGAR.

Miss N. M. writes:

1. I have read that it is safe for diabetics to eat dates, as they contain an invert sugar. Is this so?
2. What is invert sugar?

REPLY.

1. Most men hold that diabetics cannot safely eat invert sugar. Well ripened dates of certain varieties contain more invert sugar and less sugar of the cane type. However, the date is not a good source of invert sugar. Honey is a better source, but diabetics cannot be given honey with safety.
2. There are a great many sugars—all kinsmen—but differing among themselves. Levulose is the proper name for invert sugar. A ripe date contains a mixture of levulose and dextrose.

TREATING MUCOUS COLITIS.

B. V. H. writes: I am 76 years old and have had mucous colitis and a prostate trouble. I cured myself of the symptoms of mucous colitis by changing my diet and using a preparation of lactose and also psylla seed. I got much relief from my prostate trouble by the use of heat locally.

REPLY.

Mild cases of mucous colitis are treated by a sour milk and lactose diet and mild laxatives.

DIET FOR SOFT TEETH.

T. K. writes: I have very soft, chalky teeth. What can I do to harden my teeth and what should I eat? I am 18 years old.

REPLY.

Eat a diet that contains at least a pint of milk and better, more; a pint of orange juice or its equivalent in vitamin C in raw cabbage, tomatoes, bananas, and other fresh vegetables and fruits; and some cod liver oil, viosterol, or other good source of vitamin D.

2. Is it advisable to let it accumulate until the apartment is rented and then bring suit for the total?

3. How would you go about collection, garnishee wages or get a judgment on furniture, or both? P. W.

3. Depends on information as to the debtor's income and assets.

TRIBUNE LAW DEPARTMENT.

RABBITS IN TOWN.

Chicago, July 1.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—What can be done about a neighbor who has a rabbit coop right under one's bedroom window? The odor is so offensive these warm days that it is impossible to sleep. K. T.

We understand that the commissioner of health has acted effectively on some such cases. We suggest that you take the matter up with him.

TRIBUNE LAW DEPARTMENT.

SMELLY CHIMNEY.

Chicago, June 30.—[Friend of the People.]—A four flat building near us discharges and belches smoke, ashes, soot, and noxious odors twice and three times a day. I understand a screen has been taken off the top of the chimney, which is too low. At noon and night all bedrooms in the nearby flats are flooded with refuse, smoke, and odors. We can't put our babies to bed for a nap or at night because of burnt paper, soot, and smells which come in. Sparks also fly near and far. S. M.

An order has been served on the owner of premises complained of to discontinue burning rubbish and garbage and provide fuel of a sufficiently low volatile content so as to abate the nuisance of smoke and odors to neighborhood. As soon as possible our inspector will reinspect these premises to see whether or not this order has been complied with. The department will continue to keep these premises under observation until the nuisance is abated.

FRANK A. CHAMBERS,
Deputy Smoke Inspector in Charge.

A LINE O' TYPE OR TWO

How to the Line, let the quips fall where they may.

NOW THAT IT'S OVER—

we don't mind saying that we think those two Hunter boys who stayed up in the air 554 hours had it pretty soft. Think of it. For over three weeks no college graduate called on them to sell 'em Rubber Bird Cage stock. No one called them up for more margins on their Youreasucker Oil stocks. No one hammered away at their front door to sell 'em the latest authentic history of the great war with maps and fully illustrated. No one jumped up at the back door every time they opened it to give 'em an opportunity of buying Mrs. Breakanegg's Cook Book or the Gilamahoody Patent Mouse Trap. No one called 'em up on the telephone at 2 o'clock in the morning and said: "You can't guess who this is?" No bootlegger's voice was heard on the wire saying: "This is Max. I gotta shipment of real stuff from Canada. How much do you want?" No one asked 'em to make a speech at the church or over at the hall next Tuesday. They didn't have to kick in on a present for anybody, they didn't have to read anything about the tariff or the naval treaty or Mr. Claudius S. Huston, chairman of the national committee of the G. O. P. And they weren't in constant danger of being stuck up by bandits or kidnaped by racketeers or shot at by dry enforcement sleuths. High up above the earth and its troubles for over three weeks. Pretty soft! Pretty soft!

FROM THE HILL.

The great clouds gather and the sun still there throws horizontal lights upon the air.

What beauty and what pain you bring to me
I cherish with a song and hymn with sighs.

Breathless from running, and with loving eyes
I watch the valley from the hill and see some I loved and others coming on, contentment on their faces like the wan light on housetops when the sun has gone.

JEANNE DE LAMARTER.

OH, A LAUGHING, happy Monday to be sure! Let all the little Pollyannas put on their sweetest smiles and grin like a Cheshire cat all day long from early morn until late at night. Fourth of July and three days' holiday last week, and it's all over, and not another holiday anywhere in sight along the whole horizon. Ah, everybody smile, smile, smile! Lykell, lykell, lykell!

Or, as the Saying Goes, You Don't Know the Half of It, Dearie; You Don't Know the Half!

Cal Coolidge said in his column Saturday:

But the Congress has much of accomplishment. It has reduced taxes, revised the tariff, extended the public building program, made liberal appropriations for highways, adopted a rather ambitious river and harbor bill, and passed a farm relief measure which still is in the experimental stage but can be made helpful. Prohibition enforcement has been reorganized and a commission appointed to study the general subject of crime prevention.

And it worries us. Aren't you slipping, Calvin? We fear so, we fear so. As a stalwart Republican, Calvin, speaking of the achievements of an overwhelmingly Republican Congress, aren't you lukewarm, not to say cold? Have you in fifteen short months forgotten your lines? Tck! tck! tck! It looks bad, Calvin; oh, it does, indeed.

Surely you should have gone on to give the beneficent Congress that has just adjourned credit for keeping the beautiful sun shining in the sky—the sun, the glorious lamp of heaven, the radiant sun, the sun that gives us light and heat; Congress did that! And the moon, the silver crescent moon that gilds the waves at night and smiles while watchdogs bark and lovers keep their trysts. And the snows, the great soft fields of snow that cover the dear litle seeds and keep them snug and warm until the springtime comes again, Congress did that! And the soft sweet winds of spring that drive Jack Frost away and bring us out again to romp and play in green fields and bosky dells; thank you, Congress! And the gentle dew, gleaming on leaves as morning comes; the beautiful flowers of gorgeous hues and contours, exhaling sweet fragrances to the ambient air; thanks, Congress! And the rain, the cool, clear, bountiful rain falling on the parched plains and causing the wheat to spring out in great abundance, giving promise of mighty crops next fall! (Of course, Mr. Legge and the Farm Board who have been begging the farmers not to plant wheat won't thank Congress for this, because the more wheat the lower goes the price. But never morning wore to evening but what some heart did break.) And for the compass always pointing to the north; the great tides of the ocean; the magnificent rivers sweeping onwards resistlessly to the sea; the stars in their courses; the four lovely seasons—Winter, Spring, Summer, and Autumn—those faithful friends each bringing its special gifts; Congress did it all in fifteen months! Thanks, Congress, thanks for all!

That's the way for a good Republican to talk, Calvin, and don't you get your hand out. You may need all the practice you can get along about 1932. We're tellin' yuh!

LAGNIAPPE.

AND THE HARDEST THING the endurance flyers had to endure after 554 hours in the air was a banquet the night they came down. A banquet is hard enough to endure anyhow, but after 554 hours in the air it is unendurably unendurable.

AND NOW THE FRENCH are mad at us about the new tariff. And before they were mad at us because we were Uncle Shylock. And before that because we didn't get into the war soon enough. It does seem as though we couldn't please some people!

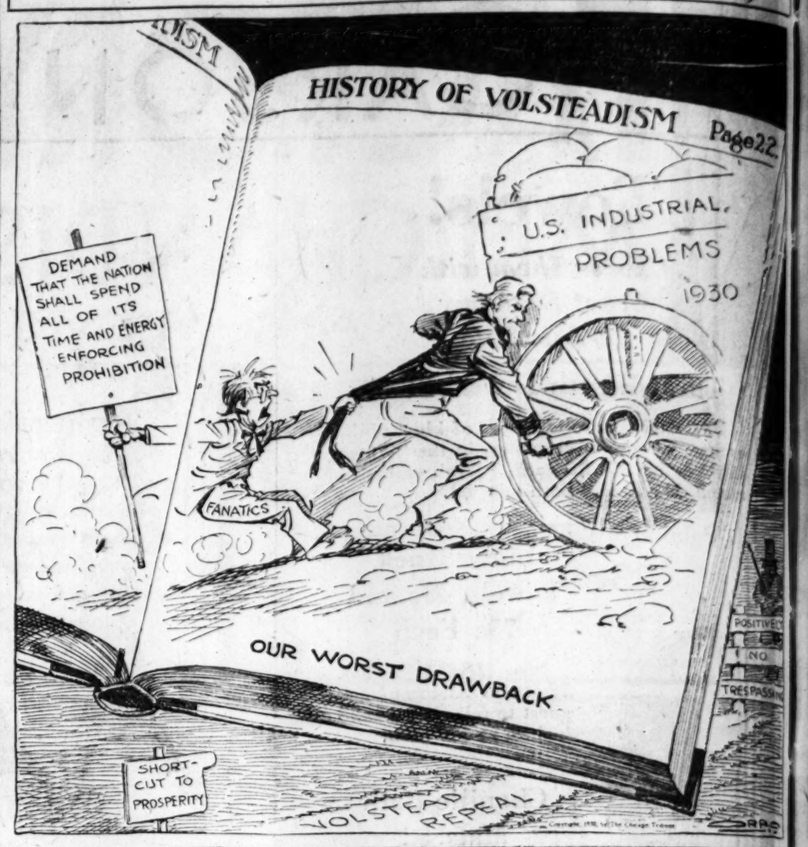
EXTRY SESSION! Back to the mines, senators; there'll be no fixin' fences this day! Or will the boys attend to the fences and let the extry session gotell? Let's wait and see. R. H. L.

PROHIBITION



FROM THE TRIBUNE'S COLUMNS

65 YEARS AGO TODAY

JULY 7, 1865.

WASHINGTON.—President Andrew Johnson approved the sentences of the military commission which tried the conspirators in the Lincoln assassination. David E. Harrold, George A. Atzerodt, Lewis Payne, and Mrs. Mary E. Surratt are sentenced to be hanged on July 7, 1865, between the hours of 10 a. m. and 2 p. m., by the proper military authority, under direction of the secretary of war. Michael O'Laughlin was found guilty of lying in wait for Gen. Grant with intent to murder him and is sentenced to imprisonment at hard labor for life. Edward Spangler was found guilty of aiding John Wilkes Booth to escape after he had shot President Lincoln and is sentenced to six years' imprisonment at hard labor. Samuel Arnold and Dr. Samuel A. Mudd were found guilty under the general conspiracy charge and sentenced to prison at hard labor for life. The order designates that prison terms shall be served in the penitentiary at Albany, N. Y.

Maj. Gens. Hancock and Hartrauft visited the penitentiary and formally notified the defendants of their sentences. Payne learned of his fate unmoved and asked that the Rev. Dr. Strickler, a Baptist minister of Baltimore, be sent for. Atzerodt was much affected and asked for a Lutheran minister, but designated no particular one. Harrold seemed to be prepared for the death sentence and asked for an interview with his family. Mrs. Surratt at first appeared hardly to realize that she had less than 24 hours to live, but as the terrible truth gradually dawned upon her she fell into an intense paroxysm of fear and begged for four days more to live. She desired the attendance of Fathers Walter and Wegel of Baltimore. The scaffold will be erected tonight in the south yard of the penitentiary. Gen. Hartrauft, the provost marshal, will have charge of the executions, which will take place about 1 o'clock.

30 YEARS AGO TODAY

JULY 7, 1900.

LONDON.—The attitude of the several European powers regarding the first steps in the Boxer revolt and other Chinese troubles is pretty well outlined in dispatches. England has assured Japan that the prompt dispatch of a large Japanese army to China will be welcomed by the British government. Russia is willing to give Japan full liberty of action in so far as the relief of the Peking legations is concerned. Shanghai reports continue to the effect that not only all Europeans in Peking have been massacred but that 5,000 Chinese converts also have been killed. Another report is that a force of 3,000 Russian troops which left Tientsin for Pekin on June 11 has been wiped out. The situation of the allied forces at Tientsin is daily becoming more desperate because of lack of supplies.

KANSAS CITY, Mo.—For want of a better man, the Democratic national convention put former Vice President Adlai E. Stevenson on the ticket with William Jennings Bryan. The action in nominating Stevenson for second place was entirely devoid of enthusiasm, for he was merely the means of preventing the nomination of Towne, the renegade Silver Republican. Despite the announced desire of ex-Senator David B. Hill of New York not to be nominated for Vice President a stampede for him was narrowly averted and he received a strong vote.

CHICAGO.—The new city directory contains 584,000 names, an increase of 20,000 over 1899. The city's population is estimated at 2,010,000. There are 5,750 Johnsons.

10 YEARS AGO TODAY

JULY 7, 1920.

SAN FRANCISCO.—Gov. James M. Cox of Ohio was nominated for President by the Democratic national convention on the forty-fourth ballot after a deadlock that ran a close second to that at Baltimore which nominated Woodrow Wilson on the forty-sixth ballot. The nomination was dictated by the George Brennan-Charles F. Murphy-Tom Taggart combination. The Wilson administration crowd went down fighting for William G. McAdoo. Franklin D. Roosevelt of New York was nominated for Vice President.

Writers should confine themselves to 200 or 300 words. Give full name and addresses. No manuscripts can be returned. Address Voice of the People, The Tribune.

LEARNING TO RIDE.

Chicago, July 5.—The Black Horse troop has come in for a good deal of hard language lately at the hands of regular army cavalry men and artillery men. They say that the Chicago outfit doesn't know how to ride. I would like to ask what right our regular army has to criticize anybody's riding? Our officers don't know how to ride and of course their men have not learned. We have sent officers to France and Italy to learn horsemanship and perhaps the time will come when what they learned will be taught to their brother officers and the ranks. When that day comes, if it ever does, criticism will be in better taste. R. R. M.

THE FORWARD SEAT.

Chicago, July 4.—The position of the "Trooper Mounted" as criticized by "Ex-Artilleryman," when viewing the Black Horse troop last Thursday, is nothing but the Italian forward seat. This seat is the one that has enabled the Italian cavalry to win innumerable contests—for cross-country, steeplechase, high jumps, climbing and slides, etc., etc. This seat is being taught at the United States cavalry school at Fort Riley, and also at Fort Sill, the artillery school of fire.

However, the three length stirrup is and always will be taught; the long stirrup for exercises, the medium length for drill and parades, and for rough country riding, jumping, etc., the short stirrup and forward seat, or, as I've heard both "yellow legs" and "wagon soldiers" so aptly call it, "the monkey seat." It is a difficult seat, keeping the body parallel to the horse's neck, and unless being ridden over rough country it does look as if the rider is trying to tell the horse that if he will behave an extra issue of oats is his.

This forward seat is not and never was intended as a parade seat, but the Black Horse troop are the "babies" of the guard; give them time and after a lot of "blanket and surcingle" in the bull ring, something they lack, why, they, too, will be able to assume the correct seat as becomes a cavalry man, and they will be able to carry themselves and their beautiful hussar uniforms as they should be carried, the body upright, slightly forward.

Give them a chance, "Artilleryman," give them a chance.

ANOTHER ARTILLERYMAN.

NAVAL EXPERTS.

Waukegan, July 4.—I see Jellicoe and Beatty are assuming the rôle of naval experts to advise parliament about the disarmament treaty. How do they qualify? Parliament ought to seek advice from real experts like Von Hipper and Von Spee. A. M. LEMAITRE.

TENANT'S COMPLAINT.

Chicago, July 2.—How many of us in the past have been bribed into signing leases by landlords promising to do so and so? It will soon be time for many of us to move. The renting public should know the following: In the absence of an express agreement to the contrary, the law treats the tenant as taking the property "as is." If the tenant wishes to have decorating, exterminating, cleaning, or repairing done he must either so stipulate in the lease, or must do it himself.

Which of us can judge by looking at an apartment whether the gas stove or icebox is in good condition, or whether the place is infested with vermin or what repairing needs to be done? Be sure to give landlord or agent six days' notice (in writing) if you contemplate moving.

Who can tell me why rents should be increased this fall, especially when there is so much unemployment? There are so many vacant flats, and the world's fair won't be until 1933.

HELEN MARTIN.

DOWNSTATE'S REPLY.

Lockport, Ill., June 26.—I see you have undertaken a high and holy crusade to elect a Chicago man governor of Illinois hereafter. You will soon be in a class with "Big Bill" for local issues. I would think THE TRIBUNE would have enough on its hands in its professed drive on hoodlumism without trying to stir up antagonism between the people of Cook county and the rest of the state.

We certainly have no objection to a Chicago governor if he is not filled with any crooked politicians. If it were not for certain politicians and newspapers in Chicago the question of legislative representation would have been settled long ago, as it is in New York and other states containing large cities. We can only interpret this campaign as a scheme of Cook county politicians to dominate the state government for selfish ends. Common sense tells us that representation should be in part geographical, and that to one county should dominate the state. Cook county taxpayers in particular should be thankful that they have state authorities which can step in when conditions get too rotten. If downstaters could properly present their case to the people of Chicago the issue would soon be settled in a manner satisfactory to both. Your attempt to enlist the aid of people in the metropolitan area on your side gives us a laugh. But where do we go on?

FRANK LAIRD.

THE WORM IN THE ROSE.

Indianapolis, Ind., June 28.—A reader wishes to speak a word about your editorials. The English you use in your editorials is wonderful; in fact, it would make many an English professor turn green with envy. But O! the poor content of your editorials, especially the recent one about birth control. Terrible.

Why not combine your superb command of English with some real honest-to-goodness content and subject-matter in your editorials? Or would that result in your grammar and use of words ceasing to be par excellence?

EDWIN J. KAISER.

KING CAROL.

Chicago, June 16.—In an editorial on the return of King Carol to his rightful throne you made the statement that the Bourbons were accepted by the French after their exile. If you will read any history you will see that the French accepted no rule but Napoleon's and that the others were forced upon them after a long fight with a Europe bought by British gold.

Furthermore, you spent a great deal of time on the domestic and moral condition of Carol, which has no bearing whatsoever on his ability to be a good king and an able leader of his people politically. C. PHILIP LAWRENCE.

SLOGAN FOR MORROW.

Paxton, Ill., June 21.—Why not "Eat, drink and be merry, for to Morrow we die"? F. WALT YOUNG.

REPORT SHOWS NOISE INJURES BRAIN OF HUMAN

Paper Bag Explosion Upsets Power.

New York, July 6.—[Special.]—A summary of health hazards resulting from loud noises and an enumeration of preliminary measures directly diminishing noises in the city are contained in the first report of the noise abatement commission, made public today.

"This committee," says the report, "after a study of data so far made available through research, declares that the continual pressure of strident sound to which New Yorkers are subjected tends to produce impairment of hearing, to introduced harmful strain upon the nervous system, leading to neurasthenic and psychasthenic states, to cause loss of efficiency of workers and thinkers, and finally to interfere so gravely with sound, refreshing sleep that rest is difficult and in some cases impossible."

Through the use a device measuring actual increase of pressure on the brain, in experiments carried out at Bellevue hospital, Dr. Foster Kennedy discovered that the bursting of a blown-up paper bag raised the pressure higher than either morphine or nitroglycerin, the most powerful agents known for raising the pressure of the brain. The paper bag explosions raised brain pressure to four times normal, with a 37 second interval before return to normal pressure.

In addition to this violent increase of brain pressure the subcommittee of physicians found that loud noises affected metabolism, produced partial or total deafness upon long exposure, prevented concentration, retarded learning in both children and adults and interfered seriously with the normal development of infants and young children.

CZECH MEMORIAL HAILS NAPOLEON NATIONAL HERO

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PRAGUE, Czecho-Slovakia, July 6.—Napoleon the First appeared in a new historical rôle yesterday when the Czechs, gathering on the battlefield of Austerlitz, now in Czecho-Slovakia, hailed him as one of their own heroes for having conquered the hated Hapsburgs.

A monument to be called "the Pantheon of Liberation," erected by Czecho-Slovakia, was unveiled yesterday at Austerlitz, the scene of one of Napoleon's greatest victories over the Austrians in 1805. Gen. Mittelhauser, former chief of the French military mission here, was present, as well as other French officials.

Gen. Viskovsky, minister of war, lauding Napoleon as a great liberator, said, "Napoleon's feat in downing the imperial house of Austria always remained the inspiration for us to do it again a century later. Napoleon's victory at Austerlitz was the beginning of the end for the Hapsburgs. And the end of the Hapsburgs meant the rebirth of the Czech nation."

EXPLORERS LEAVE TO MAP AIR ROUTE OVER GREENLAND

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, July 6.—An expedition to explore the Arctic ice cap of Greenland for the purpose of establishing an all British air route from Scotland across the Arctic to Canada, left here today in the late Sir Ernest Shackelton's old ship Quest. The expedition is composed of 15 young explorers headed by H. G. Watkins. This British arctic air route expedition has been equipped under the auspices of the Royal Geographical society.

The base camp is to be established on the southeastern coast of Greenland with a station on top of the ice cap. From the main base dog sledge expeditions will travel in the interior and map out an air route and arrange for petrol dumps.

The party expects to be absent 15 months. The explorers are equipped with two airplanes, also speed boats and sledges. When a route has been surveyed an experimental flight will be made from Winnipeg to England.

ANSWER TO SUIT BY DOCTOR THEY CALLED A QUACK

Goat Gland Specialist Seeks Damages.

Junction City, Kas., July 6.—(AP)—Dr. Morris Fishbein, Chicago, and Dr. W. S. Yates, Junction City, have filed answers to a $600,000 damage suit brought against them in District court by Dr. John R. Brinkley, goat gland specialist of Milford, Kas.

Dr. Fishbein, editor of the Journal of the American Medical Association, admitted authorship of an article, "John R. Brinkley, Quack," on which the suit is based, presented in the Journal, and Dr. Yates admits circulation of a reprint of the article.

Plead Public Interest.

Each added, however, that he believed the material in the article to be true and that the statements therein were uttered in "fair commnt on a matter of public interest" and in an "endeavor to prevent fraud and imposition."

The case probably will be tried in November.

Dr. Brinkley is scheduled to be called before the Kansas state board of medical registration and examination July 15 on charges of unethical practices.

Wins Radio Decision.

The Milford specialist recently won from the District of Columbia Court of Appeals an order staying execution of a decision of the federal radio commission refusing renewal of the license of his station KFKB, which expired June 20. Subsequently the station went back on the air, but the doctor discontinued his daily "question box" program in which he gave medical advice to listeners.

Gossip Causes Woman Chauffeur to End Her Life

New York, July 6.—[Special.]—Gossip of neighbors which started when she assumed the position of woman chauffeur to a wealthy patroness caused Mrs. Virginia Closer, 42 year old divorcee, to commit suicide today.

Her body was found where she had seated herself before a gas range after turning on all burners in her uptown apartment. In a letter to the police she asked that her insurance money be used to defray her funeral expenses.

CHICAGO MOVES AHEAD...

with trolleys that need no tracks

Always progressive—always modern—always moving ahead! Chicago is now giving to its citizens what is probably the most efficient and practical means of transportation yet developed for non-congested areas.

The fifty-five trolley buses just placed in operation by the Chicago Surface Lines represent an engineering triumph in combining the advantages of the latest trolley car with those of the modern bus. Operating by electric current, drawn from overhead trolleys, these new vehicles have the efficiency that has made the street car such a practical solution to the problem of transportation in modern cities. Yet they offer, too, the rubber-tired comfort and flexibility of operation that is possessed by the gasoline or gas-electric bus.

First, the horse car, old-fashioned, slow, inefficient—then the trolley car, a great transportation improvement—now the trolley car for transportation in congested areas, and the trolley bus with its comforts, efficiency and speed for non-congested areas—such is the history of Chicago's constant progress in urban transportation.

The electrical equipment for the majority of Chicago's buses was designed and manufactured by the Westinghouse Company, a pioneer in all developments that promote better, faster and more efficient transportation.

The buses have a seating capacity of 42 passengers. In both their appointments and operation they meet today's demand for comfort, speed, safety and economy.

"The WALLET PACK SCORES a circuit clout with us!"

vote the White Sox and their boosters

WHILE Donie Bush's boys drubbed the Red Sox recently at Comiskey Park, our bevy of Wings girls asked them to stop slugging long enough to vote on the way they liked the two new Wings cigarette packs.

Nearly four to one (68 to 18) voted for the WALLET pack. "Flatter than a dollar bill in the pocket," "The last smoke is as soldier-straight as the first," just about sums up their idea.

Said Bill Faucett, veteran grounds-keeper and Sox booster, "Those two little Twin Tenners handle as easy as a pop fly!"

"Yeh" (from the dugout), "but you could slide home on this Wallet pack and your smokes wouldn't crumple up!"

Funny how people split in their choice of packs! But "fans" and an air-cooled smoke just have to go together. So pack them how we will—they all go for WINGS!

What we mean by an AIR-COOLED smoke

WINGS are cleaner, smoother and cooler. That's because they are treated by an utterly new process—air-washing. All the dust, grit and other irritating impurities are air-washed OUT of WINGS. All nips and flares are gone. No stings or bites remain. Try 'em, taste the difference, and you'll be a booster, too!

WHICH DO YOU PREFER?

WHICH IS YOUR PACK? DECIDE TODAY!

CARL REYNOLDS cracks out a honey! Watch it sail! No more doubt it's a homer than the way the Wallet pack went over with the boys at Comiskey Park.

A HIT! A sure hit! The White Sox sluggers found the Wallet pack "easy pickin's" when the Wings girls pitched 'em a few at the dugout! Twin Tens only batted about 250—Wallets a cool 750!

INDIA MOB TRIES TO VISIT JAILED GANDHI; 10 HURT

Police Pelted with Stones and Flower Pots.

POONA, Bombay, India, July 6.—(AP)—Ten persons were injured today in a clash between police and members of a large procession which was on its way to the Yeravda jail to pay homage to Mahatma Gandhi on completion of his second month's imprisonment.

The police told the leaders of the procession that it constituted an unlawful assembly upon which the marchers squatted on the road for six hours throwing stones and flower pots at the police. Several of the officers were injured. They finally dispersed the crowd with a Lathi charge.

Capt. Blake of the Royal Bombay sappers and miners, who was passing in a motor car with his wife, was injured slightly by a stone thrown through the windshield. His wife fainted, but was uninjured.

Rich Women Don Homespun.

BOMBAY, July 6.—(AP)—The wives of Parsee merchant princes, who joined the swaraj, or independence movement, have cast aside costly foreign silks, and now are wearing simple homespun materials.

Women dressed in this manner made their first appearance today at a meeting of the Darsi political association, held to protest against the arrest of Mrs. Pepin Captain. Among those participating were Lady Petit, wife of Sir Dinshaw Manocwee Petit, and Lady Jeejeebhoy, wife of Sir Byramjee Jeejeebhoy, as well as wives of other titled millionaires.

Patel Addresses Women.

The meeting was addressed by Pandit Vallabhai Patel, new president of the all-India national congress working committee, who urged all Parsees to join the independence movement in their own interests.

"It has been suggested that the Parsees might lose all their wealth under Swaraj, but, instead of being millionaires as at present, you would all become multi-millionaires under Swaraj," he said.

POLICE TIE UP RICHES OF CROOKS IN BUENOS AIRES

Attach $1,000,000 in Bank Accounts.

BY HAROLD TATAM.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BUENOS AIRES, July 6.—Police and courts of the Argentine republic are pushing a war on crime by attaching bank accounts of racketeers and gangsters. More than a million dollars in cash and national mortgage bonds have so far been seized.

Before releasing this wealth to accused criminals its owners must render a true account of its origin. White slavers, card sharps, and a gang of check raisers, as well as swindlers of lesser degree, have been hit by this new method of police attack.

Attach Postal Savings Accounts.

About $150,000 in cash held in postal savings accounts by card sharps was attached. This band of card sharpers in a half year has swindled Buenos Aires victims out of more than $2,000,000, the police say.

One wealthy woman lost $300,000 in cash and property to a crook who married her, obtained her wealth, and then abandoned her. She is now employed as a servant at $12 a month.

An examining magistrate, investigating the operations of an international white slave ring masquerading as a charitable institution, attached the sum of $280,000 in mortgage bonds lying in a safety deposit box in one of the city's banks.

$1,000,000 in Title Deeds.

Another white slave ring now under scrutiny was found to possess title deeds of city property valued at $1,000,000.

Bank accounts of a band of check raisers now under arrest who are accused of having acquired more than a million dollars from the Bank of the Nation alone have been discovered and attached.

Find Bodies of Woman, Man Together in Auto

Cincinnati, O., July 6.—(AP)—The bodies of James Bailey, 23, and Mrs. Verdeva Herbert, 38, both of New Richmond, a village near here, were found today huddled together in an automobile on a lonely road. Dr. Joseph Curlis, coroner of Clermont county, said Bailey apparently shot the woman and then turned the weapon on himself. Mrs. Herbert had been separated from her husband several months.

Even mechanics learn A Thing or Two about lubrication from this Triple Test

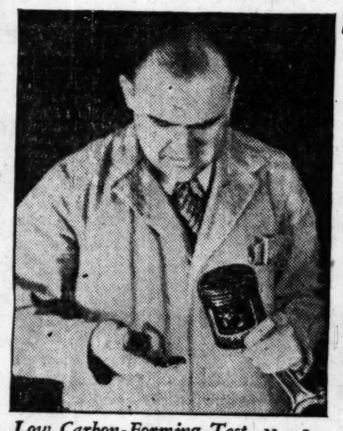
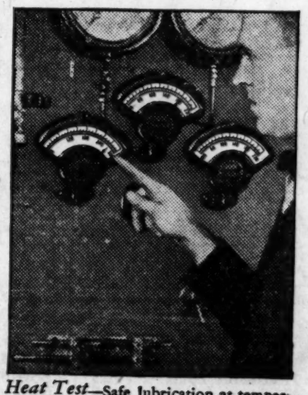
Never-Thin Test—This Ball and Bottle test proves that New Iso-Vis will not thin out in your crankcase. You can see it for yourself at any Standard Oil Service Station. The speed of the balls falling in the bottles shows that the body of "used" New Iso-Vis is as heavy as the fresh oil.



Low Carbon-Forming Test—New Iso-Vis gives you relief from that unseen enemy—Carbon. This means longer life for your car. Comparative tests show that the carbon deposit of New Iso-Vis is only half the average deposit of various premium-priced oils.



Heat Test—Safe lubrication at temperatures even above the danger mark on your gauge is proved for New Iso-Vis by this test. In a special laboratory engine, New Iso-Vis was run for 50 hours at 300°F.

HERE ARE the proven characteristics of this improved, new oil. Each one is vital to the proper protection and perfect performance of the modern high compression engine.

Yet never before have they all been combined in one motor oil. New Iso-Vis

1 has a low carbon forming tendency
2 resists above-normal engine heat yet flows at low temperatures
3 is the only oil that will not thin out in your crankcase.

The first two qualities are secured by a new process of refining that gives a wholly distilled oil. Every bit of New Iso-Vis goes through a vapor stage. Despite this, it has a sturdy body without the addition of undistilled parts of the crude oil.

Think what it means to you to have a motor oil that will not thin out in your crankcase. This third important quality is given New Iso-Vis by a patented process in the final step of preparation.

Thousands and thousands of motorists who have used this new oil since it was put on the market last March are ready to testify that New Iso-Vis has decided advantages over any other motor oil. Your engine will appreciate it if you will stop in at a Standard Oil dealer or service station and drain, flush and refill it with New Iso-Vis.

New ISO-VIS Motor Oil 30¢ a quart

The New Polarine also is produced by our new refining processes—giving it a degree of lubricating efficiency which we believe is exceeded only by the New Iso-Vis. The price is 25c a quart.

Steaming up the Saguenay Canyon

EARLY explorers believed that the great canyon of the Saguenay River was a continuation of the St. Lawrence and therefore the mythical water route to China. Their subsequent laughter, rowing down its dark waters, led to the christening of Ha Ha Bay.

This unfathomed river, whose towering capes are but the heads of submerged mountains—once perhaps, the loftiest ever reared to the heavens—seems to embody the mystery of the North. It forms the climax to your sail down the wide St. Lawrence River through Old French Canada's most historic scenes.

This is a delightful, near-at-hand cruise, up to and beyond the edge of cultivation—to the gateway of primeval wilderness. Steamers are luxurious to a degree. The air is compounded of balsam and salt from the sea. Your companions are friendly. And we look after your comfort all the way.

Please write at once for illustrated folder which describes in detail the pleasures of this wonderful vacation cruise.

RUMANIA FIGHTS TO PUT PEASANT ARMY ON FEET

Premier Maniu Pushes Farm Relief Drive.

BY WILLIAM SHIRER.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BUCHAREST, July 6. — Premier Julio Maniu and the cabinet, which is revamped following the sudden grab of Michael's throne by his father, King Carol II., are vigorously pushing measures for the relief of the farmers of Rumania. In a country four-fifths agricultural, all efforts of previous governments had been devoted to forcing the industrialization of Rumania, to the destruction of its farming interests. Agriculture was left without machinery or tools, cheap credits, selected seeds or technical improvements so badly needed in the crisis, which inevitably followed land reform and the handing over of land to the peasants.

Moreover, while the tariff was constantly raised and the prices of industrial products soared, prices of farm products were kept down by price fixing while exportation of food products was forbidden.

The Maniu government, the head of which is a peasant, threw overboard the Bratianu idea of Rumania neither importing nor exporting, and he made agricultural reform the corner stone of his new economic policy. After a year and a half the results are fair.

Maniu Gets $3,000,000 Loan.

When the peasant government took office inhabitants of 28 counties not only had no seed to plant their next crops, but were starving for lack of food. Dr. Maniu borrowed $3,000,000 at 8 1-3 per cent interest from the Dreidner bank. Part of it went for food for the starving. Most of it went for new selected seed. Thus 1,332,898 hectares were sown by the relief commission, staving off an agricultural crisis which threatened the lives of thousands.

Steps were also taken to free the peasants from usurers, who charged from 20 to 40 per cent on their loans. A central coöperative bank, in which the state and the federation of coöperatives participated, was established with a capital of 1,000,000,000 lei. [A lei is about six-tenths of a cent]. A central coöperative office for imports and exports was set up to facilitate the furnishing of machinery, tools and seeds to the peasants. It also organized the sale of produce, establishing direct contacts with foreign markets.

Two Credit Institutions.

The act of July, 1929, dealt further with the organization of rural mortgages and agricultural credit. It set up two types of credit institutions:

1. Mutual rural mortgage credit companies with a minimum capital of 115,000,000 lei.

2. Agricultural credit companies with a minimum capital of 500,000,000 lei.

The operations of these companies are strictly defined, everything being done to enable the small farmer to obtain credit on long terms and at the smallest possible rate of interest.

Minister of Commerce Madgearu, who wrote the laws, said that these companies also were empowered to issue debentures on the strength of mortgage loans made in cash, or on the security of immovable property of the company.

"The authorization of the issue of debentures as a means of procuring capital meets the necessity of mobilizing capital, especially on the British and American markets," he explained.

Protects Land of Peasant.

In order to keep the peasants from being robbed of their newly won land by speculators, the act imposes several conditions, which confine the transfer of land to producers who are actual cultivators. Land sharks are summarily dealt with and special safeguards are provided to prevent any one from trying to consolidate the peasant estates.

Agricultural instruction and propaganda have also been completely reorganized. Previously graduates of the agricultural schools swelled the ranks of lazy public officials. Now they are being put to work supervising actual farming. The entire school system has been revised in order to create at once thousands of skilled agricultural laborers.

Popularization of agricultural knowledge is to be made through winter agricultural schools for boys and seasonal domestic economy schools for girls, schools for agricultural apprentices, lectures and discussions, demonstrations, agricultural trips, exhibitions, museums, pamphlets, drawings, and movies.

FAMILY FINANCIAL PROBLEMS

are solved daily by husbands, wives and Household Managers

ASKED why they come to Household for the money they need, most of our customers would say, "because the Household Loan Plan makes it possible for us to get $100 to $300 with the greatest privacy."

Privacy and confidence are the keynotes of our service. When you come to us for a loan you are shown into a private office similar to the one pictured here. There, between husband, wife and Household Manager alone the terms of the loan are agreed upon, family financial problems are discussed, and the money you need is handed to you in cash.

If you need money for any reasonable purpose—to pay doctor, dentist or insurance bills; to make repairs on your home; or to buy needed household supplies, don't hesitate to ask us for the money. A liberal Plan will be arranged to suit your requirements. And our rate is nearly one-third lower than the lawful rate. Come in—Write or Phone. If more convenient a representative will call at your home.

How We Make Loans—We lend $100 to $300 to husband and wife for domestic use. No other signatures or endorsers are required. You get the entire amount you borrow. There are no fines, fees or deductions. You have as long as twenty months to repay, and we charge you only for the actual time you keep the money. At no time during your dealings with us do we make inquiries among your friends, relatives, or of your employer. Neither do we embarrass you by asking you to appeal to your friends for endorsements. None are required under the Household Plan.

You will find Household Managers to be friendly, courteous advisers in all home financial problems. The experience gained in rendering family financial service for the past fifty-two years is back of these men. They will be glad to give you the benefit of this accumulated experience as well as their own training in arranging a budget plan to suit your needs.

1930-31 Theatrical Season begins THIS WEEK in Publix-Balaban & Katz theatres

» » » » THE great picture-producers know, from our previous experience, that July and August are the banner months of the entire year at Publix-Balaban & Katz theatres, and they are sending us the gem productions of their studios for these two months instead of holding them for September and October as was their custom in years past.

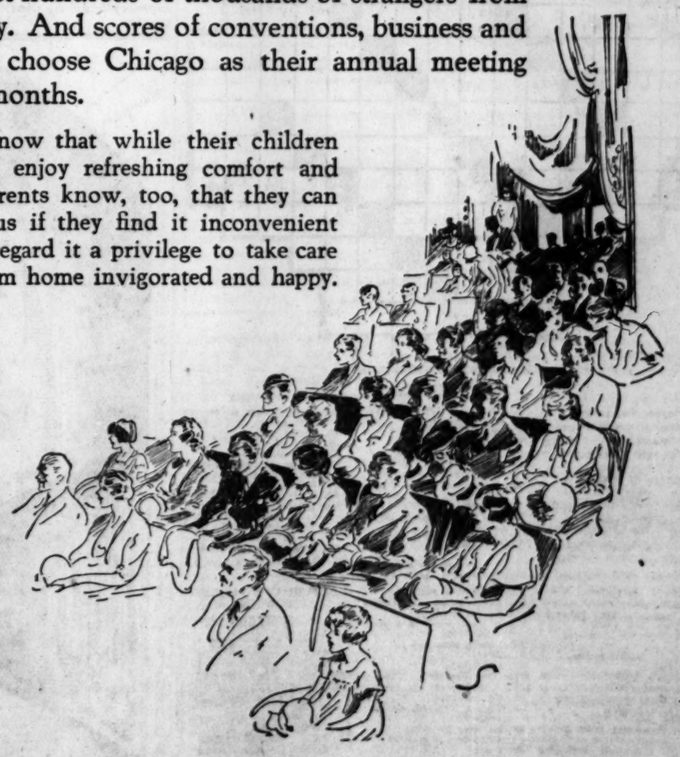
We have pre-viewed all the product of these notable studios —all their outstanding productions — and have selected the cream of them all for the Summer months.

We earnestly assure the people of Chicago and the myriads of others who visit Chicago, that never in our history have we presented pictures of such dramatic strength, profound beauty and entertaining quality.

The Great Influx of Summer Visitors Has Already Started

Chicago's fame as a Summer Resort and the great reputation of these theatres, attract hundreds of thousands of strangers from all parts of the country. And scores of conventions, business and industrial associations choose Chicago as their annual meeting place in the summer months.

Mothers and fathers know that while their children are in these theatres they enjoy refreshing comfort and breathe pure fresh air. Parents know, too, that they can send their little ones to us if they find it inconvenient to come themselves. We regard it a privilege to take care of them and to send them home invigorated and happy.



Visit these theatres weekly and you will find that they will contribute immeasurably to the most pleasant Summer you have ever had.

U. S. COMMUNIST PARTY RESENTS RUSSIAN ADVICE

Moscow Organ Advocates Vigorous Action.

New York, July 6.—[Special.]—The Communist party at the concluding session today of its three day national conference attacked an editorial in the Pravda, the Moscow party organ, which urged radical leaders in the United States to prepare the masses here at once for a more vigorous campaign against American imperialism and exploitation.

Criticism of the suggestions from Russia as to how radicals here should propagandize labor and argicultural groups came in the form of a statement from Jay Lovestone, chairman of the national council. He said that although there is nothing wrong in principle in Russian leaders recommending what should be done in the United States, the proposals for carrying out the work are wrong and show a lack of knowledge as to the actual conditions here.

Lovestone Among Expelled.

Mr. Lovestone and many of his followers were expelled last year from the Communist party on orders of the Communist international in Moscow because of disagreement on policies. The Lovestone followers say the American workers are not as ready for revolution as the leaders in Russia have been lead to believe.

The statement issued reads in part as follows:

"Have the Russian comrades a right to make suggestions to us and propose action? Our position is that not only do they have such a right, but it is their duty to do so.

"We welcome the fact that this Pravda editorial shows signs of taking into recognition the specific position in which our party finds itself as a result of the present rôle of United States imperialism.

Has "Too Much Bluff."

"But we must express our regrets that this statement still rings with too much bluff. It speaks of our party having 15,000 members. The last convention was informed that the dues paying members of our party is today somewhat more than 6,000. The Pravda editorial also declares that our party gained from six to seven thousand members in its last recruiting drive. Such wild claims have not been made by even the corrupt party bureaucracy for months.

"It is a fact that recent months have seen intensification of the persecution of the Communists and the militant workers. This is an indication of the sharpening of the class struggle. But police persecution is not necessarily in itself a sign of the strength of our party."

Business Women Meet Today at Congress Hotel

Business and professional women from all parts of the nation were arriving in Chicgo yesterday and last night for the opening this morning at the Congress hotel of the annual meeting of the board of directors of the National Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs. The sessions will conclude on Wednesday.

A significant feature of the meeting will be the open forum discussion on "Our Federation as Seen by Ourselves," to be led by Miss Emily R. Kneubuhl of New York, executive secretary.

The discussion was inspired by the charge recently made in a magazine article by Anna Steese Richardson that women's organizations are often guilty of lobbying from inside. Officers of the federation are on record as opposing such lobbying as dangerous to the welfare of the organization.

TRY NEW SYSTEM OF DEPARTMENT BUDGET MAKING

Abandon Preliminary Estimates.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., July 6.—[Special.]—A new departure in budget making is being tried out this year by the Hoover administration. Under the new plan cabinet officers are given greater responsibilities in preparing budget estimates for financing their departments. The old system of the various cabinet heads submitting preliminary estimates to the budget director has been dispensed with and this year only one budget estimate will be worked out by the officials of each executive department.

During the régime of Budget Director Herbert M. Lord each cabinet member was required to submit a preliminary estimate of the next year's needs of his department early in the fiscal year. This figure, especially in the cases of the army and navy, was pruned down several million dollars by the budget director, and each cabinet head was given a new limiting figure to guide the preparation of a regular budget estimate to be submitted later.

Responsibility on Cabinet Head

Under the Lord system the responsibility for trimming the budget figures for the various departments rested primarily in the hands of the budget director. This year the responsibility of holding down the expenditures of the departments to a figure close to that which President Hoover is likely to approve for submission to congress rests on the shoulders of the individual cabinet members. The result is that the close contact between the budget office and the cabinet heads during the earlier stages of budget making, a source of friction at times during the Lord régime, has been eliminated.

To Be Governed by Past Figures.

The secretary of war and the secretary of the navy now have the task of holding down their estimates to figures approximating the 1931 budgets, which totaled 715 million dollars. Of this sum 379 millions was for the navy and 337 millions for army funds.

The regular budget figures for all departments are about completed and must be in the hands of Budget Director J. Clawson Roop by July 15. After these figures have been studied by the budget office the usual practice of holding hearings will be followed. After the hearings the budget director, in coöperation with the President, will fix the final figure.

WOMAN, 43, LIES UNCONSCIOUS 62 HOURS; MAY LIVE

New York, July 6.—[Special.]—After lying unconscious for 62 hours following an attempt to commit suicide by gas in a Greenwich Village apartment, Mrs. Maude Anderson, 43, Cincinnati, said to be a writer, was rescued today by neighbors and the police and is expected to recover.

Mrs. Anderson was lying, unconscious, across a bed. In her right hand she grasped a note which read:

"My dearest: My darlings will never understand, but the alternative is so much worse than this that I have no choice. I loved them desperately, but I was only a phantom in a phantom of phantoms. Love, MAUDE."

Detectives thought that Mrs. Anderson's husband was here and that she had left Cincinnati in an effort to effect a reconciliation. It was believed that her note was addressed to him and that a reference was made in it to her children.

FOE OF CAROL PINKS GENERAL IN SWORD DUEL

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BUCHAREST, Rumania, July 6.—Gen. Zohivsky, former minister of war and a warm friend of King Carol II., fought a duel with swords outside the city yesterday with Stephen Lupascu—not to be confused with Mme. Magda Lupescu, the red headed lady for whom Carol once renounced the throne, only to abandon her recently. Gen. Zohivsky was no match for his opponent, who is a well known fencer, and was wounded in the arm.

When King Carol heard of the duel he called Gen. Zohivsky to the royal palace and had his wound dressed by the court physician, later inviting him to dinner.

The duel was a result of newspaper articles written by M. Lupascu, articles which Gen. Zohivsky considered insulting.

11,000 Finnish Peasants Mass for "War" on Reds

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

HELSINGFORS, Finland, July 6.—Eleven thousand peasants from all over Finland are gathering here for tomorrow's anti-communist demonstrations. Most of the demonstrators are from Lappo, where the anti-red movement originated. They are wearing black and blue arm bands. A government communique tonight stated Finland looked to the peasants to support the government to crush communism.

CATHOLICS PRAY AGAINST UNHOLY BROADCASTING

Holy See Proclaims Month Devotion.

New York, July 6.—[Special.]—More than 6,000,000 Catholics in the United States, members of the Apostleship of Prayer, which has also some 30,000,000 associate members in 97,000 centers throughout the world, will pray this month on instructions from Pope Pius XI. for "protection against dangerous broadcasting." This was learned today through the Rev. Charles J. Mullaly, president of the apostleship, which has its headquarters at 515 East Fordham road.

There are 12,000 centers of the organization in the United States. In New York City it has a membership of 500,000. Every month the pope sets a prayer or "intention" for the apostleship.

The fact that the pope has seen fit to approve a prayer against what the church regards as dangerous broadcasting was taken as an indication that it is the plan of the holy see to combat such broadcasting and to use the radio as an instrument of Catholic activity.

That such is the intention of the pope is suggested in an article in the July number of the Messenger of the Sacred Heart by the Rev. James M. Gillis, editor of the Catholic World, who hails the month's "intention" for the Apostleship of Prayer and the announcement that a radio broadcasting station is to be established at the Vatican as a happy coincidence.

"The holy father has indicated plainly that he is not content to pray against evil influences but that he is preparing to fight them and with that most modern weapon," writes the Rev. Mr. Gillis.

CHOLERA GAINS IN PHILIPPINES; 221 DIE SINCE JUNE 20

MANILA, July 6.—(AP)—Cholera has made widespread gain in the Philippines during the last week, department of health figures released today revealed. The disease has entered several previously unaffected places despite efforts of health authorities to check it. Deaths since June 20 were estimated at 221.

The official report for the period from June 20 to July 1 places the number of cases in the islands at 436 and the deaths at 188. Since then reports from various places indicate 78 additional cases and 33 death.

Health authorities are working to the full extent of their facilities to check the spread of the disease, which is almost nation-wide. Authorities believe that a major epidemic is impossible in face of their campaign. Manila is still free of the disease.

FLOODS AND WIND DAMAGE CROPS IN NORTHERN SPAIN

MADRID, July 6.—(AP)—While many residents of southern Spain were camping in the fields in fear of another earthquake following the shocks last night, serious floods were reported in northern Spain today. Dispatches said crops, live stock and buildings had been damaged by floods near Santander, Pampolo, Locrono, and Burgos.

The earthquake shocks were of great intensity at Seville, Granada and Cordoba. At Lucena, loud subterranean noises were heard, while the trembling earth rang the church bells.

BITTER WAR FEELING HAS BEEN FORGOTTEN, SAYS GERMAN ENVOY

Washington, D. C., July 6.—(AP)—The opinion that reconciliation between the American and German people after the world war has become an accomplished fact was expressed today by Ambassador von Prittwitz, in a radio address.

The German ambassador's message was broadcast over the conclave of nations series of the Columbia broadcasting system.

Prefacing his remarks with a tribute to trans-Atlantic aviators, Herr von Prittwitz said:

"If technical science and technical skill have been able to diminish the physical distance which separates Europe from America, it is perhaps still more gratifying that the forces of good will on both sides of the ocean have been able equally to reduce the mental distance created between our two peoples by the war.

"Notwithstanding that an ocean separates us, reconciliation between the American and German peoples after the war rapidly began and today seems an accomplished fact."

Fail to Find Traces of 2 Lost British Airmen

RANGOON, Burma, July 6.—(AP)—Despite a diligent search of land and sea, no trace has been found of the British airmen Hook and Matthews since their takeoff Thursday from Akyab on an attempted record flight from England to Australia. The flyers were last seen about 80 miles south of Akyab, heading out to sea. A heavy rain is believed to have forced them down.

A FRIEND IN NEED

BY SALLY JOY BROWN.

Rug to Lighten Mother's Work.

"I am employed during the day, and when I come home at night I have my housework to do. With the floors of five large rooms to scrub and three boys to care for, I have more to do than I can manage. My husband has just come from the hospital, so he needs a lot of attention, too. Now, if I had a large rug or some other floor covering it would lessen my work a great deal. Can you get me one through your column?

"MRS. M. C."

This poor mother certainly has a large sized job on her hands, and if we can do anything to relieve her of part of this burden I feel sure it will be help well directed. Can you supply the floor covering she asks for?

Sally Seeking Letters from the Young Fans

BY SALLY JOY BROWN.

Did you see my message in yesterday's TRIBUNE to all the young baseball enthusiasts in and around Chicago? If you did, you'll agree with me that it was the best kind of news and if you didn't, I'll tell you all about it again so that you'll have an opportunity to enjoy the party I announced. For that's what this good news was, an announcement of a major league baseball party to take place on July 17, a week from next Thursday.

Mr. Comiskey has invited me to the White Sox-Athletics game and he wants me to bring one hundred boys and girls who are real fans and who would enjoy such a day at the south side ball park. We'll see thee world's champion baseball team in action! If you want to be invited, write me a letter telling me so and I shall select for my guests the ones who sound the most enthusiastic and the ones I think would enjoy a thrilling baseball game the most.

There are so many things to write about that will make your letter a winning one, you should have no difficulty at all. You can tell me who your favorite Sox player is, or you can tell me what you especially like about baseball. Perhaps some of you play yourself and have ambitions to be an outfielder like Alex Metzler or a first baseman like Bud Clancy.

Do you know that Carl Reynolds made three home runs the other day? Well, we'll see him when our White Sox meet Connie Mack's boys from Philadelphia on July 17 in a game that will keep you on the edge of your seats for two hours. And we'll see Jeffries, the newest addition to the White Sox, who is according to all reports a marvelous shortstop.

Now, get to work at your letters and be sure to have them reach me by next Thursday morning, because on that day I shall read them and make my selections. Each boy and girl must write his or her own letter and it should contain your name, address, and age, or I shall not be able to invite you to this party.

Uncle Sam Decides Just Where a Lady's Waist Can Be Found

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.

Seven inches above the hips. That's where a lady's waist can be reached, if we accept figuratively the statistics recently compiled by Uncle Sam—not for the benefit of all the nephew Sams—but for the pattern makers among his large nephewed family.

It's disconcerting news, to put it mildly. Some of us tape-ing ourselves from hip bone up will find the seven inch rule ending where waists were worn in the Directoire era—two or three inches above its usual habitat!

If we're long drawn out individuals maybe the seven inch pull from hip to waist line will land us in the vicinity of what we have instinctively felt to be the waistline fort. Instead of establishing a perfect waist goal, it is feared Uncle Sam hasn't done a thing to help us poor wimmin! Let us pray that in his amendment zeal he keeps to prohibition and leaves the poor old waistline the liberty it is wont to take.

If you are interested in some more measurements evolved at the same meeting of manufacturers, merchants, and educators at which the waistline was awarded a seven inch separation from hip bone, here they are [all measurements in inches]:

WOMEN.
Bust	34	36	38	40	42	44	46	48	50
Waist	28	30	32	34	36	38	40	42	44
Hip	37	39	41	43	45	47½	50	53	56

MISSES.
Size	14	16	18	20
Bust	32	34	36	38
Waist	27	28	30	32
Hip	35	37	39	41

The above measurements apply to patterns, not to readymade garments.

At any rate, you can determine the puzzling difference between an 18 and a 20 size, which has puzzled a goodly number of women.

BEAUTY ANSWERS

R. H.: PALLOR RARELY EXISTS in perfectly healthy young people. It is caused by lack of fresh air and improper diet. Breathe deeply of fresh air. Have the room in which you work and sleep well ventilated. Eat plentifully of green vegetables and fresh fruits, and drink milk.

The Plant World Is Called Place of Green Magic

By GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS.

If you want to enjoy nature with your children write to Mrs. Bevans for a list of books on the outdoor world, which will be sent on receipt of a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

True story:

It was on a little, remote railroad station. A small boy was holding a turtle, waiting for the train. A man and a woman, who should have been dressed in the peasant clothes of southeastern Europe, were watching the turtle, fascinated.

"What should it be, a snake?" asked the woman.

"No, it's a turtle," answered the man.

"What's on its back, now—stuck like?"

"That's not stuck, it's the shell."

"The shell—what for, the shell?"

"To keep it—to protect it like—it grows there." He explained in detail.

The woman looked and looked. Then a gleam grew in her eyes.

"Ain't it wonderful—the nature!"

There are two kind of books that can serve to introduce us to the world of outdoors. One is the necessary guide book—the kind we stick in our pockets or use as a reference book when we want to know the answer to "What bird is that? What tree is that? What flower is that?" etc. Then there is the other kind—the kind that makes us see the workings of nature in such a way that we exclaim within us, "How exquisite! How fascinating! I can't believe it!" The kind of book that makes us really feel, "Isn't nature wonderful!" as the untutored woman on the railroad station felt when that flash of understanding came to her.

Nature is wonderful. And any book which can take a child behind the scenes and give him a glimpse of her marvelous work is an invaluable book—and a rare one.

Such is "Green Magic"—a book which makes you really see the magic workings of the green world about us. As one who knows, I can tell you that it's easy to interest children in birds and animals, insects and water creatures—or rather, to feed their interest. It's another story to make them realize the variety and wonder of plant life. The writer of "Green Magic" has done this.

With a background of real knowledge of her subject, she makes vivid the green magic of the plant world. She makes it live as I know of no other nature writer for children doing, but in no sentimental story way.

Here is a tiny sample: ". . . though wise people say plants have no intelligence they so often act as if they had. For instance, the same laws and rules that are used by engineers in building bridges are used by the vine climbing up a tree or trellis. The nettle poisoned the barbs of its arrows long before the red Indian did. We fight with spears just as the cactus does; or when we want to catch a rabbit for dinner we set a trap. So does the sun dew."

It is a book you will enjoy and find fascinating and stimulating, yourself. For girls and boys—depending upon the intelligence and tastes of the child—I should say it is for those 10 years old and over.

"Green Magic," by Julie Closson Kenly, is published by D. Appleton & Co. of New York and costs $2.50.

FARM AND GARDEN

BY PAUL POTTER

Beets, carrots, rutabagas, turnips, and winter radishes are typical root crops that can be stored for winter usage and for which plans should be made now on advice of James G. Moore, horticulturist of the college of agriculture of the University of Wisconsin. Relatively moist atmosphere and temperatures near freezing are desirable to make the crops last through the months when home grown vegetables become scarce.

For the home that has a furnace heated cellar, Prof. Moore suggests the following treatment in the vegetable cellar: Place the vegetables in amounts of one to one and one-half bushels in boxes or directly on the cement floor. Enough water is sprinkled on gunnysacks placed over the vegetables to prevent wilting and when the roots are in containers even the floor can be sprinkled to keep the temperatures lower.

Packing in sand is a general practice in which the sand should be wet from time to time, but not kept too wet. This condition can be checked by examining the vegetables from time to time. Outside pits can be built before harvest time in the fall. These must be deep enough so that the vegetables can be covered sufficiently with soil or other protection to prevent freezing.

In large storage houses such as are used by truck farmers producing cabbage, onions, and potatoes, temperatures are kept as near the freezing point as possible during the winter, with special care, however, not to permit freezing conditions. Ventilation is regulated so that heat generated by the vegetables is liberated and fresh air circulated, with small stoves usually supplying enough heat in severe cold periods to keep the air from 30 to 34 degrees above zero.

Juicy, tender steak done to a turn and just off the broiler! Can you suggest anything in the meat line more agreeable in flavor and texture and more savory in odor? Evidently few of us can think of anything more tempting, for we choose it when we eat out and we serve it at home to our guests.

There are steaks, however, that are not so enticing. Tough, dry, or sodden steaks are often served.

How can one avoid poor steak and always prepare flawless ones? That is a question that homemakers ask. They can afford steak only occasionally, and for this reason it is important that they follow the right method. Cooking a perfect steak is not a difficult task, but is one in which a few simple things must be kept in mind.

There are only a few tender cuts in the animal that are adapted to broiling. The four most generally used are porterhouse, sirloin, tenderloin, and club steaks. Tenderloin of heifers and cows served as fillet mignon are the least expensive. Porterhouse is the most expensive. Select a steak consistent with the contents of your purse. Have it cut at least one and one-half inches thick.

If the steak seems too fat, trim some of it off. Place steak on ungreased broiler and broil by direct heat under the flame in the broiling oven with an oven temperature of at least 600° F. I know that most recipes advise the greasing of the broiler. But the meat never adheres to an ungreased broiler, so why grease it?

Have the steak an inch below the flame. Sear the meat quickly on one side. Then turn, being careful not to prick the seared crust. I have found a pancake turner the best utensil for turning broiling steak. If you must use a fork, stick it into the fat along the edge rather than into the lean. If the flame is hot enough the meat will begin to sear at once. This is important to hold in the juices. Broil on one side for one minute, then turn and broil on the other side one minute. Repeat this three times. Then reduce the heat and turn the steak occasionally until cooked to the desired stage.

This stage is determined by the taste of the individual. Men usually prefer rare steaks, while women as a rule choose those well done. And this difference in taste is a source of much contention, especially in the home, for men do not enjoy the well done steaks prepared by their wives, and women cannot endure the rare steaks cooked by their husbands. This is well worth keeping in mind, so that when one is serving to a mixed group the steak may be cut into individual servings. It will then be an easy matter to remove the rare steaks and allow the others to cook until done.

Salt is added after the steak is done. Salt added at the beginning draws out the juices and makes dry steak. About twelve minutes of cooking produces a medium rare steak. At least twenty minutes is required to cook a steak of the usual thickness well done.

Precautions: Buy your steak of a butcher who fears your criticism. Never pound steak that is to be broiled. Never cut gashes in it and insert strips of fat. The more surface exposed the greater will be the loss of juices. If you must have it basted with fat, lay small strips of the trimmed off fat over the surface. Some celebrated chefs recommend that steak be marinated in seasoned oil for a few hours. I think this is a mistake. The natural flavor of steak developed in proper broiling is the best that can be obtained. Why mar such perfection?

Serve steak the instant that it is removed from the broiler. If you are serving guests or members of your family who are in the habit of arriving late, don't start your steak until they do arrive. It is far better for them to wait than for you to spoil your reputation as a broiler of the best steaks one ever tasted.

Paris Evening Modes Wear Lace Trimming.

BY BETTINA BEDWELL.

PARIS.—[Special Correspondence.]—Lace trimming is enjoying extraordinary popularity in fashionable evening circles this summer. Chiffon, mousseline, net, organdy, even handkerchief linen evening gowns trimmed with lace flounces or tiny edgings tend to replace the all lace dress, and the effect is light, young, and essentially feminine.

Chanel is one of the strongest partisans of lace trimmings. Hundreds of yards of lace adorn some of her summer dancing frocks for young girls. Lelong shows many lace trimmed chiffon evening frocks, while Callot Soeurs trim everything, even to tailored suits, with narrow lace edgings.

This evening frock from Augustabernard, like everything made by that talented creatrice, appeals directly to the woman of taste, for it is simple, youthful, becoming, and easy to wear.

It's of the new, coarse, rather stiff black net, made over a black satin slip that falls to about ten inches from the edges of the wide hem, where two ruffles of black Chantilly lace are mounted in scallops. The wide, circular skirt is mounted in deep zig-zags on a narrow hip yoke, giving the free bell-like silhouette that is fashion's favorite now. A corresponding zig-zag emplecement reheves the slender blouse with its moderate round décolleté. The satin slip is cut so as to give a transparent yoke effect to the net. An incrusted belt of the net marks a slightly subnormal waistline.

The ankle length of the frock exemplifies the upward trend of new skirt levels.

EMBARRASSING MOMENTS

What was the most embarrassing moment of your life? If you care to have it published, address Embarrassing Moments, Chicago Tribune. Please write on one side of the paper. No manuscripts returned.

No, Thanks.

A short time ago my friend and I were returning from the north side on an elevated train. During the course of our ride two middle aged men boarded the train and sat directly across from us. Each proceeded to take a bag from his pocket and offer it to the other. We watched them, although it was merely out of curiosity. Whether or not we were looking at them longingly, I do not know; however, one of the men took the candy and extended the bag across the aisle to us. We declined with many blushes, and tried to laugh as every one else was doing, but we were too embarrassed to be successful.

Don't Be Afraid to Show Boy Friends That You Like Them

BY DORIS BLAKE.

Whether it is better to spend some good years of your life regretting that you said too much rather than too little is the problem advanced in a communication from Dorothy.

Dorothy believes that girls often lose out with men because they have so little confidence in themselves. They are afraid and worried as to whether they have said too much or too little when their intentions were to be friendly and invite friendship in return. "Some girls," Dorothy notes, "are scared to death that if they tell a boy that his hair is nice and his tie is beautiful he will get the idea they want to marry him.

"If a boy puts his arm around one of these girls or wants to kiss her good night after taking her out three or four times, why, goodness gracious! he can't respect her. Which is just plain hooey!

"If," continues the young modern, "the girls would only wake up and realize that a boy doesn't kiss a girl he doesn't like and will not take her out more than once if he doesn't like her, it would do them some good."

Dorothy's idea is that there is no need to worry about saying or doing too much. The probability is that the boy can stand more. He can use the encouragement. Boys aren't such all-fired egotists as some girls seem to assume. A good many of them are more timid than girls and need all the help you can give them. By which Dorothy wants it understood, nothing out of the way need ever be done.

DORIS BLAKE ANSWERS

Take Advantage of the Privilege.

"Dear Miss Blake: I met a girl whom I have not seen for a long time. She told me to write to her. Was this a mere formality? JACK."

You should avail yourself of the privilege, Jack.

Tells Her of Other Girl.

"Dear Miss Blake: My fellow tells me all about the other girl, but I can't understand him. ALICE."

It's possible he cares for both of you, dear.

But because some girls are so scared of appearing forward, they aren't friendly enough to invite affection.

The cordon is closing in on bachelor freedom, one realizes both from the Dorothys and from a current magazine piece of advice from a well known woman author. The latter tells girls if they see a man they like, to go get him, even to asking him to marry them if the circumstances justify. The writer says that men have to be encouraged because of their native timidity and the reason many charming girls remain unmarried is because men rarely make the first approach.

Bright Sayings of the Children

I was teaching a Sunday school class and asked little Billy this question, "What must we do to save our soul?" to which little Billy promptly replied, "Don't run out in the street."

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.

In the nonchalant, leisurely fashion for which he is known, Waite Hoyt disposed of Donie Bush's White Sox yesterday in the opener of a five game set. The famous mortician threw baseballs much the same as he threw them in his pristine days as a Yankee, and under such able leadership the Tigers had little trouble rolling up a 5 to 2 triumph over the embarrassed tail enders.

All the south side entry could coax from their now ageing opponent was a total of seven hits, all scattered through as many innings. By keeping the wallops so widely separated Hoyt had practically no difficulties for eight rounds, and he might have added one more link to his chain of effectiveness if, after a couple of passes, pinch swinger John Watwood hadn't nosed into the party with a two bagger in the ninth.

Braxton Yanked in Fourth.

In addition to their lack of hits, the Sox developed other complaints. One was that Garland Braxton did not function as a hurler. This is indicated by two runs in the third and three in the fourth, the latter cluster removing him from the rôle of a participant. Braxton, however, might have avoided some of this humiliation if two of his mates hadn't kicked in with errors at inopportune moments.

When good judgment demanded that Braxton be excused in the fourth, Hal McKain was asked to fill the vacancy, and he accepted the job with the grace of a master. As soon as he took charge of the situation, the Tigers went into retirement and in five and one-third innings against him they were confined to a lone single. McKain's brilliant effort was of no use, however, so long as Hoyt persisted in traveling the even tenor of his way.

Caraway and Henry will be intrusted with the pitching labors in a double header today. The Tigers may employ Whitehill and Wyatt.

Error Embarrasses Braxton.

A matter of an error separated Braxton from a runless inning in the third when the scoring began with a pair of markers for the Tigers. Akers started the session with a single, but died stealing. Hayworth then singled and Hoyt bounced to Braxton for what should have been a double killing, but Kerr dropped the ball at second. Johnson hit safely to right, Hayworth scoring. Funk filled the bases by beating out a bunt to Kamm. Gehringer's grounder forced Hoyt at the plate, but Braxton gave free passage to Alexander and this sent Johnson over the counter.

The three runs in the fourth, which sent Braxton to the place where all bad pitchers go, began with Stone thumping a homer to right. Akers was tossed out and Hayworth would have met a similar fate if Mulleavy hadn't fumbled an ordinary grounder. Hoyt walked and was forced by Johnson, putting Hayworth on third. Funk and Gehringer then singled, scoring Hayworth and Johnson and also squeezing Braxton off the scene. McKain strolled in and fanned Alexander to conclude the inning.

Kamm Deprived of Homer.

Prior to the ninth the Sox enjoyed only two possible scoring opportunities. In the first session Mulleavy singled and was safe at second when Akers made a bad toss on an attempted force out on Reynolds' grounder. The next two batters couldn't assist the two prospective runners. Then in the seventh Kamm doubled to left for what might have been ruled a homer if some fans hadn't deceived the arbiters by trying to catch the ball and thus knocking it back on the field. This happened with one out, and after Tate had been set down, McKain walked. Kerr could do nothing better than bounce to Alexander.

The Comiskey employés started to dolly the whitewash brush in the ninth when Barnes walked. After Clancy's demise, Kamm walked. Watwood was summoned to bat for Tate and doubled to left on Hoyt's first pitch. Barnes scoring and Kamm going to third. Cissell batted for McKain, and while he was being thrown out, Kamm scored. Kerr's fly to center completed the performance.

MANDELL UNDER HANDICAP; HE'S HONEST FIGHTER

It's an Unorthodox Trait in His Business.

BY WESTBROOK PEGLER.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, July 6.—Sammy Mandell, the lightweight champion of the world, is making arrangements to fight Al Singer in a 15 round bout at the weight for the class in the Yankee stadium on July 17, and up to now both parties seem so honest about the thing that it is just as well to assume a suspicious attitude and wonder what is wrong.

SAMMY MANDELL.

I am particularly suspicious of the Mandell party because Samuel and his manager, Mr. Eddie Kane, have such a high reputation for honesty that I feel quite sure that there must be something phoney about them. They never have engaged in any fake prize fights, they do not own any beer routes or stills, neither of them has any local political connections, and, on the whole, they appear to be characters who will bear watching.

Mr. Morgan's Advice.

It is Mr. Dumb Daniel Morgan, one of the survivors of the old school of prizefight management, who says one should always avoid dealings with honest men in the prizefight business because honesty is unorthodox and an orthodox man puts himself at a disadvantage.

The customers, too, by this time have become strictly orthodox in their attitude toward the business and if the boys show them an honest contest, unmarked by any fouls or claims of foul, they will be likely to go away disappointed and denouncing the exhibition as a fraud. It seems only fair to the patrons to warn them, although this may hurt the gate.

As to the Singer party, there is less cause for apprehension. It has been only a few weeks since Singer engaged in a ten round fight with Ignacio Fernandez, a Filipino, in the new Garden, which was preceded by maneuvers and rumors of the strictest orthodoxy. Fernandez had knocked Singer out in a previous bout about one year ago and on this recent evening, as the patrons entered the Garden, they were greeted by reports that Fernandez was to go into the water in round one so that Al would look formidable as an opponent for Mandell.

James Farley, the chairman of the prizefight commission, took cognizance of this and called upon Fernandez in his dressing room to say that he positively must not go into the water unless pushed. Consequently, when Fernandez went to the floor in the first round he hopped up like a popping corn off a hot stove lid and the contest went the full route of ten rounds.

Many Customers Complain.

I heard many customers complaining that if the day had come when they had to watch honest prizefights they would never darken the doors of the Garden again and there was no little resentment against Mr. Farley for injecting the foreign element of honesty into a bout which originally promised exceedingly orthodox sport.

In this bout Singer did not seem quite man enough to beat Mandell as I remember Samuel, but then I have not seen Samuel perform since the night of his bout with Jimmy McLarnin, a couple of years ago.

Both young men have signed waivers of the old foul rule, which has now been suspended in New York state, agreeing to equip themselves with the best available body armor and take their chances with any punches that may land out of bounds. This will be the first important prizefight

IN TRIBUNE SWIM

VIVIAN REESOR.

Manley Junior Girl Is Among First Entries

BY WILFRID SMITH.

Vivian Reesor, 2930 Congress street, was one of the first of Chicago's girls to enter THE TRIBUNE'S 100 yard swimming races which will be held Sunday afternoon, July 27, in the Lincoln park lagoon.

There's no doubt that Vivian will be one of the strongest competitors for the championship of 14 and 15 year old girls. Although she never has entered such a race before, she won her junior life guard badge at the Hugh Manley Junior High school this spring. Mrs. Merkle, her instructor, supervised these tests. Vivian will be a member of the 9B class this fall. She belongs to the Manley Girls' Athletic association and is considered an all around athlete.

Whether she wins a prize or not, Vivian is certain she wants a TRIBUNE merit badge for swimming 100 yards. This badge will be awarded all boys and girls who complete the race, no matter how far back they finish.

The races are open to all boys and girls between the ages of 12 and 15, inclusive. They will compete in two age divisions, 12 and 13, 14 and 15. The start will be made in the lagoon opposite the Lincoln Park Canoe club boathouse. The finish barge will be anchored 100 yard to the south. The lake shore outer drive and the lagoon bridge furnish vantage points from which thousands may watch the races.

No registration other than the entry blank printed on page 28 is necessary. Fill it out and mail it today. Entries close July 21.

JONES TURNS IN PAR 72 IN DRILL AT INTERLACHEN

Von Elm, Hagen, Tolley in Practice Round.

Minneapolis, Minn., July 6.—(AP)—Robert T. Jones Jr. played Interlachen today for the first time, but before the sun had set he had scored par 72 twice, golfing evidence, if any was needed, that when the national open gets under way Thursday he will be ready to make a vigorous defense of his championship.

In blazing his own trail at the course, he set the pace for the day's scoring in practice rounds although he paid no attention to his card and was bent on an intensive study of Interlachen's formations. During his first round he often drove with the green out of sight and only its general location known to him. He made frequent test shots into the rough to plumb their dangers but despite this he scored six birdies and never overshot par by more than a single stroke.

Three Others Get 72s.

Three contenders during one round each also scored 72s, Johnny Farrell, 1928 open winner; Densmore Shute, Columbus, and Jack Collins, Los Angeles. Fred Morrison, Los Angeles, scored his second 73, tying with Sonny Rouse, Chicago, and Ray Mangrum, Dallas.

Jimmy Johnston, St. Paul, United States amateur champion; Cyril Tolley, former British amateur champion, and Don Moe, young Portland, Ore., amateur, played with Jones but their attack, brilliant in spots, lacked consistency, and a 75 credited to Tolley was their best score for the day.

Walter Hagen, twice open champion, made his entry into tournament company after a tour of the orient with a 74, while Horton Smith, the young sharpshooting professional, and George von Elm, 1926 amateur champion, rang up 75s late in the day.

Only club members and their families besides contestants were permitted on the course during the Sabbath practice, but a gallery of more than 200 people, most of those present, followed Jones around.

His putter, now in its sixth year of service, brought outstanding results for the champion, in contrast to many of the other entries, who have been free to express their lack of respect for the greens and their own luckless putting. So far many more challenges for low scores have been blasted at the greens than anywhere along the line of play.

Bobby to Vary Drills.

Von Elm showed that he had magic in his woods at the start, taking a birdie three on the par four first. In the morning, Smith played the first nine in 35, one under par, but played no more until late in the day.

Jones intends to vary his daily practices from 18 to 36 holes. He said after playing today that he felt he was in sound condition for the open, and completely rested from his invasion of the British isles which resulted in his capture of both the British open and amateur crowns. Saturday, in his second effort with his clubs since returning to the United States, he shot a 69 on the comparatively easy Woodhill course.

7 WORLD MARKS BROKEN IN COAST SWIMMING MEET

Long Beach, Cal., July 6.—(AP)—Swimmers brought the National A. A. U. championships to a close here today by adding two new world marks, a grand total of seven for the four-day meet. Four American records also were broken.

Miss Helene Madison of Seattle revised four of the world's records in free style events ranging from the 100-meters to the mile. Second to her was Clarence [Buster] Crabbe, Los Angeles A. C., with two free style records and an American mark. George Kojac, New York A. C., established a new figure for the 200-meter back stroke distance.

Crabbe's half mile record today had a setting made to order. The sturdy Honolulu youth was matched stroke for stroke by Maiola Kalili from Hawaii, and his victory in 10 minutes 20.4 seconds was only by an inch.

TUNING UP

George Von Elm, former national amateur champion, started his practice round at Interlachen yesterday with a birdie 3. Von Elm is one of a field of 150 who will begin play for the United States open title Thursday.

Lott and Doeg Meet Allison, Van Ryn Today

Tilden on Cup Team?

PHILADELPHIA, July 6.—(AP)—Joseph W. Wear, chairman of the United States Davis cup committee, today discussed by telephone with Fitz-Eugene Dixon, captain of the American team in London, the possibility of inviting Bill Tilden to become a member of the squad. Mr. Wear said he had a "very satisfactory conversation" with Mr. Dixon. He stated nothing would be given out until Monday, when the makeup of the team will be announced.

WIMBLEDON, England, July 6.—(AP)—Wimbledon's tennis fans will reassemble tomorrow for one match—the all-American struggle for men's doubles honors, final event of the British championships.

This battle will pit Wilmer Allison and John Van Ryn, Wimbledon champions in 1929 and American Davis cup doubles team in the challenge round against France last year, against the United States champions, George Lott and Johnny Doeg.

U. S. Wins Three Titles.

Of the four championships so far decided the United States has won three outright and shared in the other. Not one native Englishman reached the final round, much less won a title.

Helen Wills Moody won the women's singles crown for the fourth consecutive time by beating Elizabeth Ryan of California. Mrs. Moody and Miss Ryan won the women's doubles by beating Sarah Palfrey of Boston and Edith Cross of San Francisco. Tilden beat Allison for the men's singles title, and Miss Ryan and Jack Crawford of Australia defeated Daniel Prenn and Fraulein H. Krahwinkel for mixed doubles honors. Now the United States is assured of another triumph in men's doubles.

The result of tomorrow's match is expected to have a material bearing on America's lineup against France in the Davis cup challenge round if the Americans win the interzone final against either Japan or Italy.

Tilden May Meet Cochet.

Tilden's Wimbledon triumph seems to assure him of an invitation to join the American team. In the approaching Davis cup play the tall Philadelphian would have an opportunity to defeat his old rival, Henri Cochet, and round out his brilliant 1930 campaign with a conquest of the man who has been his nemesis in recent years. Tilden's victory here lacked completeness only because Allison had beaten Cochet before Tilden got to the Frenchman.

Heine Domgoergen Beats European Ring Champ

COLOGNE, Germany, July 6.—(AP)—Heine Domgoergen, German middleweight, scored a victory on points over Michele Bonaglia, European light heavyweight champion, here today.

CRAMP FORCES SUTTER TO QUIT IN TENNIS FINAL

College Champ Defaults to Coggeshall.

Harris Coggeshall, Des Moines, won the western singles championship at the River Forest Tennis club yesterday when Clifford Sutter, New Orleans, national intercollegiate champion, was forced to default in the fifth set. The scores stood 1-6, 6-2, 6-2, 4-6, and 5-all in the final set when Sutter was seized with a cramp in his leg and fell on the court.

Sutter and Maurice Bayon, his Tulane university partner, defaulted the doubles championship to Coggeshall and Bruce Barnes, Austin, Tex., when Sutter was unable to play after almost an hour's rest.

Sutter Wins First Set.

Sutter breezed through the first set with ease, driving flat shots deep into Coggeshall's court and sauntering to the net to snap a volley or an overhead shot for a placement. The New Orleans youth stayed in the back court during the next two sets and Coggeshall took them both, 6-2, 6-2. Sutter won the fourth set, 6-4, and then came the fifth set and Sutter's withdrawal.

Catherine Wolf, Indianapolis, demonstrated she is the best woman tennis player in the west by defeating Clara Louise Zinke, Cincinnati, present first ranking western girl, 3-6, 6-4, 6-1. It was Miss Wolf's third title in three weeks, she having won the city and state championships previously.

Shares Doubles Title.

Miss Wolf also participated in a second triumph. Paired with Mrs. Barbara Duffy of Cleveland, she aided in winning the women's doubles title from Miss Zinke and Ruth Oexman, Cincinnati pair, by scores of 6-4, 2-6, 6-1.

Walter T. Hayes won the veterans' singles by trimming his doubles partner, F. C. "Pop" Preucil, 6-1, 4-6, 6-0. They took the doubles title with ease, defeating W. Baymiller, Peoria, and Frank O'Brien, 6-2, 6-0.

BLAKE FADES IN 9TH OF OPENER, YIELDS 3 RUNS

Cincinnati Takes 2d Game in Eighth.

BY EDWARD BURNS.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Cincinnati, O., July 6.—The disconsolate Cincinnati Reds laughed off many of their miseries this afternoon by giving the Cubs a sound beating in both games of a double header, 5 to 4 and 8 to 7. Now the Cubs are in second place, eight points behind the Robins.

It was the first time this year the Cubs have dropped a double header, but even that innovation wouldn't be so distressing if the Reds hadn't teased the Chicago fellows by leading them on to believe they were going to be easy winners of the first game. Then they encouraged them to perform a lot of futile heroics in the second contest only to turn the tables around again.

The first game can be recorded simply as a ninth inning flop by Fred Blake—a nose dive that allowed three runs to go across in the final session. When the Sheriff stumbled for his eighth loss of the year he nullified, among other things, Hack Wilson's 24th homer of the year, a great swat which broke a 2 to 2 tie in the sixth inning.

Pinch Hitters Come Through.

In this game three pinch hitters appeared in the ninth for Cincinnati and all three produced hits and scored, too. And when the last one scored on Swanson's sacrifice fly the first ball game was over.

On the basis of what they showed in the first six innings of the second game the Cubs deserved to take a good blistering. But after that their gladiatorial endeavor entitled them to a better fate than they met.

Going into the seventh our boys were trailing, 7 to 1. But they rose up in the seventh and made four runs and had two men on base when the inning ended. In this inning D. Taylor with a single and Tolson, with a walk, continued the string of successful pinch batting to five for the day.

Homer Ties Score.

Then in the eighth, Gabby Hartnett, seventh successful pinch batter of the afternoon, proved the best of the day by knocking out his 19th homer of the year, a terrific drive which carried some 425 feet. Pinch Batter Heathcote had singled just before Gabby's homer, so the score was tied at 7 to 7.

Root went in to pitch the eighth, but the gods were not with him and, as we will describe later on, the stage soon was set for Evar Swanson to knock out his second winning sacrifice fly of the afternoon.

FIRST GAME

The first game was a rather smart contest until the blowup in the final inning, and should have been, without too much second guessing, a 4 to 2 or perhaps 4 to 3 Chicago victory.

The Reds had made a run in the second inning on Heilmann's double and Kelly's single, and in the third they were leading, 2 to 0, by virtue of a run made on a single by Walker, a sacrifice by Sukeforth, an infield out, and a single by Stripp.

At the outset of the fourth English launched the business of overcoming the Reds' lead. He singled to center, paused while Cuyler was flying to Swanson, and stopped at third when Wilson doubled off the center field wall. Woody scored on a sacrifice fly to Heilmann.

The tying run was effected in the next inning. Hartnett walked, and moved to second on Beck's sacrifice bunt. Blake fanned, but Blair beat out an infield single and Gabby stopped at third. English again functioned with a single, which sent Hartnett home with the tying run.

Three Pinch Hitters Respond.

That No. 24 homer of Hack's led off the sixth and broke the tie. After Hack had steamed around the sultry base lines Frey walked Taylor, who progressed to second on Grimm's sacrifice bunt. He scored on Hartnett's single.

With one down in the ninth, Lucas batted for Ford and came through with a single, a whistler to left. Pat Crawford batted for Durocher and singled to right, Lucas taking third. Cuccinello was the third successive pinch batter to be summoned by Manager Howley and the third to produce. He rammed a single past Blake, Lucas scoring and Crawford stopping at second.

W. Walker knocked a long fly to left center and it was scored a double when it bounced out of D. Taylor's glove, Crawford scoring the tying run and Cuccinello stopping a third. Sukeforth was given an intentional pass, filling the bases. Swanson lined to Cuyler and Cuccinello scored the winning run after the catch.

SECOND GAME

At the end of the first three innings of the second game the Cubs had made a lone single off Rixey and the Reds were boasting five runs, produced on seven hits, which included a homer by Kelly, a triple by Ford and singles by Sukeforth, Swanson and Heilmann.

Rain Halts Second Game in Third Inning.

Brooklyn, N. Y., July 6.—(AP)—Ike Boone, former Coast league slugger, made his debut with the Brooklyn Robins against the Boston Braves today and starred as the Robins pounded out a 10 to 4 victory. Boone hit a single and a home run and turned in the fielding gem of the game in the first inning, when he caught Walter Berger's bid for a home run and held on to the ball as he fell head first into the left field bleachers.

The second game of the scheduled double header was called in the Brooklyn half of the third inning as Boston led, 1 to 0. Babe Phelps and Tom Zachary were the opposing pitchers. A sudden shower drenched the field.

Shires' Hit in Tenth Defeats Yanks, 3 to 2

Washington, D. C., July 6.—(AP)—Art Shires, pinch hitting for Spencer, singled in the tenth inning with three Senators aboard and Washington made it four in a row from New York by taking the final game of the series today, 3 to 2. McCutcheon's a Good Scout; Ask Any Tribune Canoeist

BY BOB BECKER.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Winamac, Ind., July 6.—"Wow! McCutcheon! McCutcheon, some boy!"

This was the salute of welcome which roared across the Tippecanoe river this afternoon when John McCutcheon, TRIBUNE cartoonist, walked into the camp of the Chicago Boy Scouts who are paddling down this famous stream on the TRIBUNE'S canoe cruise. As soon as the car bringing Mr. McCutcheon appeared on the hill overlooking the shady camp site where the Scouts are tenting, the bugle sounded.

Put on Eating Show.

The boys quickly assembled near the headquarters camps of the expedition and then they let loose a lusty yell for their Chicago visitor. Wishing to show a former resident of the Hoosier state how the Indiana climate affects the appetite, the Scouts immediately put on an eating demonstration that was a knockout.

Sunday dinner was ready when Mr. McCutcheon came into camp for a brief visit and as soon as a heaping plate of beef potroast with gravy, browned potatoes, rice, new green beans and bread and butter had been placed before him, the boys stepped up to show how huge pots of food can be made to disappear in jig time.

These Chicago Scouts who piled out of their blankets at 5 a. m., much to the dismay of a few civilized eight hour sleepers, came back for their seconds in the chow line and then everybody gathered in the shade of a big maple tree close to the river bank to hear Mr. McCutcheon tell about the early Indian days along the Tippecanoe.

Tells of Indian Battlefield.

"You boys," he said to the Scouts, "are entering into historic country as you travel south on the Tippecanoe. Before you paddle out of this river upon the Wabash, you are going to pass close to a famous Indian battlefield where the white troops under Gen. William Harrison fought a savage fight with the redskins who were urged into battle by a brother of Tecumseh, named The Prophet.

"This battlefield is not very far from my old home. I was born on a farm south of Lafayette. My home was close to what was once a flourishing trading post and Indian village, so throughout my boyhood I heard much regarding the early occupation of this part of the state by various Indian tribes around Lafayette. You can still see today signs of some of the trails used by the redskins as they traveled back and forth through Indiana.

"It is a pleasure to welcome you to my home state and I am sure you are going to enjoy not only the historic background of this lovely river on which you are encamped, but also the fun of covering it and exploring it as canoe campers."

Want to Know About Cartoons.

Following this chat with the boys about the Tippecanoe, Mr. McCutcheon was bombarded with questions on how to draw cartoons and become a famous newspaper cartoonist, and then with a "Yea, McCutcheon" Scout yell ringing in his ears, he was taken back to Winamac to catch a train for Chicago.

Tomorrow the boy canoeists will strike their tents, load their canoes and start downstream early in the morning for a new camping site. The leaky canoes have been patched, so the ships of the Tippecanoe navy are ready to travel. A big program of outdoor sports was on the schedule at 4 o'clock this afternoon, a series of canoe races being run. Following this event swimming races were the program and the afternoon's sport was topped off with several canoe tilting contests.

Tonight's campfire brought a test of the Scouts' knowledge of fire building, because wood is not only scarce near the campsite, but also damp from recent rains. This morning a group of the boys scoured the low lands nearby looking for dry fire wood and at the same time learning about the relative values of elm, soft maple, locust and oak for fire building. They brought in a big pile of branches which was burned tonight while the Scouts listened to stories, used their tenor voices, and got music out of mandolins and mouth organs.

Spit is a horrid word, but it's worse if on the end of your cigar

. . . the war against Spitting is a crusade of decency . . . join it. smoke CERTIFIED CREMO!

One of many actual photographs of "spit-tipping" cigar makers. The above picture was taken in Philadelphia, Pa., April 1, 1930. An affidavit from the photographer is on file, showing that this workman used spit in making a cigar.

Over 7,500 cigar factories are registered by the U. S. Government. Over 7,400 of these hand-roll cigars, producing 50 percent of the output. Every hand-rolled cigar—made by American Cigar Co. or anyone else—is subject to the possible danger of "spit-tipping." Certified Cremo is absolutely free from spit-tipping—No Cremo is made by hand.

Certified Cremo is a really wonderful smoke—mild—mellow—nut-sweet! Every leaf entering the clean, sunny Cremo factories is scientifically treated by methods recommended by the United States Department of Agriculture. And its purity is safeguarded along every step of the way by amazing inventions that bind, roll, wrap and tip the cigars!

BY FRENCH LANE.

The west has not lowered its colors to the powerful racing stables of the east during the first week of Arlington Park's summer turf season.

During the first six days 46 races were run. Western owned horses captured 29 of them. The easterners accounted for the other 17 contests. But in this summary the west gets credit for three races won by horses owned by Mrs. John Hertz and for two races captured by the colorbearers of Edward R. Bradley. The Hertz and Bradley horses have raced in the east throughout the summer, coming west only for the Arlington meeting.

The undefeated combination of Gallant Fox and Earl Sande made its first appearance at Arlington yesterday afternoon in a mile workout over a difficult, drying out track. Sande, who motored in from New York at noon yesterday, had the favorite for Saturday's $70,000 classic under stout restraint all the way. The Fox turned the quarter in :24 1-5, the three-eighths in :37 3-5, the half in :53 1-5, the three-quarters in 1:21 3-5, and the mile in 1:50 2-5. Flaming, another member of the Belair stud family, accompanied the Fox in his workout.

More Easterners Coming.

The intersectional battle between the east and west will tighten up this week with the arrival of many additional horses from New York.

Candidates for next Saturday's Classic were beginning to demand much attention at Arlington yesterday. Gallant Knight arrived yesterday morning and will get his final Classic test tomorrow or Wednesday morning.

Jockey J. Marcum took the lead for riding honors during the first week, hooting five winners home, while Eddie Steffen and the veteran, Jimmy Smith, are tied for second place with four winners each.

The jockeys who have scored more than one victory during the first week of the Arlington season follow:

Rider—	Winner.	Rider—	Winner.
J. Marcum	5	A. Harraway	2
E. Steffen	4	P. Donoghue	2
J. Smith	4	A. Richard	2
L. Schaefer	3	D. Trivett	2
G. Depeso	2	R. Morrison	2

Whitney, Widener Horses Arrive.

Three carloads of eastern horses, including those owned by Joseph E. Widener, Mrs. Helen Hay Whitney, and Clyde Phillips, former trainer for the Greentree stable, arrived from New York yesterday. From Latonia came Reveille Boy, winner of the American Derby; Jean Valjean, winner of the Independence handicap, and Cayuga, victor in the Quickstep Saturday. Another arrival was Devilkin, James Simpson Jr.'s steeplechaser.

Cubs Skid to Second Place; Lose 2 Games

triple when Wilson was a little too leisurely in his pursuit of a long fly. Durocher grounded to English and Ford was run down between third and home, Durocher reaching second. Rixey popped a fly which descended smack in Wilson's glove, but it was so easy that Hack forgot to take hold of the ball. Durocher had run across while the ball was in the air, so one run counted on the error.

Shealy Relieves Bush.

The Reds' third inning was terrific. Sukeforth opened with a single to center and stopped at second on Swanson's single through the box. The pair moved up on Stripp's sacrifice bunt and scored on Heilmann's single to center. Kelly then knocked a homer over the center field wall, which is 407 feet from the home plate. Shealy relieved Bush and retired the next two batsmen on infield taps.

The Cubs' fourth was a woeful affair. English walked and Cuyler was hit by a pitched ball. There was some sort of panic on the baselines when Wilson slapped the ball against the far distant right field wall, and for a time all three runners were in the neighborhood of second base. Wilson retraced his steps to first, but English and Cuyler remained confused. Finally both decided to run home. Woody got there, but Kl was out at the plate. Stephenson singled to center, and Wilson stopped at second. Grimm forced Wilson at third and J. Taylor flied to right.

Reds Jump on Shealy.

In the fifth Kelly and Ford didn't get the ball out of the infield, but they made hits just the same. Durocher then struck out and Rixey flied to Wilson, but Walker walked, filling the bases. Sukeforth singled to left, scoring Kelly and Ford and putting Walker on third. He took second on Stevie's throw to English. Beck retired the side by throwing out Swanson.

Until one was out in the seventh, the Cubs had made four hits, all singles, off Rixey. However, after J. Taylor had popped out to start the seventh, Beck singled to right. D. Taylor batted for Shealy and singled to center, Beck stopping at second. Tolson batted for Blair and walked, filling the bases. Farrell ran for Tolson. English singled to right ,scoring Beck and Taylor and putting Farrell on third. Benton then relieved Rixey. Cuyler forced English, Farrell scoring. Wilson walked. Stevie singled to center. Cuyler scoring and Wilson stopping at second. Grimm then continued his hitless streak with a fly to Swanson.

The Cub eighth started with Stripp making a great stop over third to get J. Taylor on a hot grounder. Heathcote batted for Beck and singled to right. Hartnett batted for Shealy and knocked his No. 19 over the center field wall. The blow scored Heathcote and tied the score at 7 to 7. Si Johnson relieved Benton and Farrell fouled to Sukeforth and English flied to Heimann.

Root went in to pitch the eighth but soon ran into the only really tough break the Cubs had all day. Durocher walked. Johnson, with the infield in, attempted a sacrifice bunt, but instead popped the ball over Grimm's head for a hit. Walker laid down a sacrifice bunt and Sukeforth was given an intentional pass, filling the bases. Swanson then popped a fly to Wilson in short center, and Durocher scored the winning run after the catch.

The Cubs made a dying gasp after two were out in the ninth. Stevie singled and Grimm walked, but J. Taylor ended the game with a liner to Swanson.

to be waged under the new rule, and it is possible, of course, that in the exercise of this new freedom both will concentrate on low punches. Perhaps the time will come when some boy, being tapped on the chin in the midst of a rally of low punches, will drop to the floor with his face in his hand yelling, "Foul! He hit me on the jaw."

Samuel claims to be only 26 years old, and if this be true, it only goes to prove that one can never trust an honest prizefighter because he was fighting 15 round main events here at the old Madison Square garden at a time when he must have been less than 21 years old, contrary to the rules of the prizefight commission. He matured with a school of mediocre lightweights at the time when the generation of Benny Leonard, Johnny Dundee, Richie Mitchell, Leftie Lewis Tendler, Charlie White, Willie Jackson, and Sailor Friedman were taking on weight and passing out.

Sammy Waited for Winner.

Tex Rickard held a tournament after Leonard retired, but Mandell refused to play through and waited to fight the winner.

Goodrich won and this was proof enough that the tournament had not produced a champion because Kansas then beat him for the so-called championship and Mandell then won from Kansas.

As a home loving young husband and father, a churchgoing, quiet respectable business man with no picturesque traits he was not the stuff that newspaper copy is made of. A faint touch of burglary would have done wonders for the fame of Sammy Mandell.

DEDICATION OF MERCHANDISE MART PUT OFF

BY HOWARD CARSWELL.

The formal dedication of the Merchandise Mart, which had been planned for the first week of August during the semi-annual convention of the Interstate Merchants' council, has been definitely postponed until some probable September date, it has been learned from an authoritative source.

Acting on the presumption that the first impression is a lasting impression, officials of the building decided, with some regret, that the manifold duties of finishing the new mart [the world's largest building] should be completed before displaying it to the several thousand retail merchants from all parts of North America who will attend the approaching summer market and merchants' convention.

Sales totals in the Chicago wholesale and retail mercantile establishments compared well with the same period a year ago, according to the Chicago Association of Commerce. An improvement was noted in all lines, especially wearing apparel and household furnishings.

The consensus of opinion among sales agents for Carson Pirie Scott & Co. [wholesale], located in different sections of the country, favors a general pickup in retail trade, but will be dependent, of course, on crop conditions. This is indicated in the replies to a questionnaire sent out recently by Frederick H. Scott, vice president. Although in some localities salesmen frankly confessed a gloomy outlook for autumn business, the majority of responses to the questionnaire predicted better business with the coming of fall.

Auburn Automobile.

Please give me any figures you have on Cord corporation and Auburn automobile stock—number of shares, capital, surplus, and indebtedness, if any. What were their sales in the last three months, etc., or any information you may have concerning same.—M. W. J.

Auburn Automobile company, manufacturer of Auburn, Duesenberg and Cord automobiles, has progressed rapidly in the last few years. Sales have increased each year and profits have been consistently upward.

During the first part of the current year the company's sales were close to the record 1929 levels, although a reduction in the quarter ended Feb. 28, 1930, was reported, due to existing business conditions. Net sales for the first quarter of this year were $6,438,740, against $7,478,986 a year before. Earnings for the quarter were 56 cents per share on 173,385 no par shares, against $3.29 per share on 159,900 shares in the quarter ended Feb. 28, 1929.

Net income in 1929 after deducting interest of minority stockholders in subsidiaries, was $3,603,200, equal to $21.23 per share, against $1,425,223 in 1928, and $1,235,456 in 1927.

As of Nov. 30, 1929, current assets were $13,326,865, and current liabilities were $3,295,922, leaving a net working capital of $10,030,943. Profit and loss surplus was $5,719,960. The company has no funded debt and only one class of stock.

Dividends of $1 in cash and 2 per cent in stock are paid quarterly.

The stock deserves a fair rating. It is, however, subject to wide fluctuation on the market due partly to a limited floating supply.

Cord corporation is a management holding and operating company which holds substantial stock interests in Auburn Automobile company, Lycoming Manufacturing company, Limousine Body company, Columbia Axle company and Stinson Aircraft corporation.

Cord corporation's net income from June 17 to Nov. 30, 1929, was $230,830. It has outstanding $11,300,000 of capital stock [par $5]. No dividends have been reported.

Cord corporation's stock may be conditionally regarded as speculative until the company shall have been in existence long enough to demonstrate its earning power.

Republic of Chile.

Please inform me at what price Republic of Chile external sinking fund gold bonds, issued in 1926 and due April, 1960, sold for on March 4, 1930, and are they a safe investment?—R. J.

Chile 6s, due in 1960, on March 4, 1930, were quoted in New York at 90 high, 89¾ low, and 90 close. These bonds are reasonably sound.

DEPOSITS OF BIG CHASE BANK ARE $2,000,000,000

Has $2,065,434,000 in Resources.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, July 6.—For the first time in the history of banking a single institution, the Chase National bank, reports total deposits in excess of two billion dollars. Deposits, according to the latest statement of the bank, as of June 30, aggregate $2,065,434,000 and total resources $2,648,958,000, which is also a new high record for financial institutions. The latter figure is substantially higher than the combined resources when the merger of the Chase bank with the Equitable Trust company and the Interstate Trust company became effective. It has usually been the case that when two or more large banks are consolidated that a certain shrinkage in total resources takes place.

Deposits of the Chase in the new statement show an increase of $1,238,112,000 over the deposits reported by the bank a year ago, and total resources on June 30 were $1,532,554,000 greater than on June 30, 1929. The aggregate of capital, surplus and undivided profits in the new statement is $359,318,000. Since the merger on June 2 the Chase has gained $2,595,000 in undivided profits.

Affords Comparison.

A comparison of the size of the Chase with the two next largest banks in New York City is afforded by the statement of condition announced last week by the National City bank and by the Guaranty Trust company. The National City reported total resources of $2,978,337,252 and total deposits of $1,560,268,690, while the Guaranty reported total resources of $2,038,458,286 and deposits of $1,379,329,839.

The present total resources of Chase, $2,648,958,000, compare with $2,501,272,416, the aggregate resources of the three institutions, the Chase, the Equitable, and the Interstate, which now make up the chase, as the last previous bank call prior to the merger, made on March 27, 1930. At that time the Chase bank reported total resources of $1,484,883,320, the Equitable total resources of $939,028,789, and the Interstate of $77,260,307. At that time the total deposits of the Chase were $1,106,677,737, those of the Equitable $716,400,531, and of the Interstate $53,365,771. Prior to that the Chase had acquired the National Park bank.

Chase Securities Corp.

The figures covering the Chase do not include figures for Chase Securities corporation or any of the other organizations affiliated with the bank. The present figures of the capital, surplus, and undivided profits aggregating $359,318,000, compare with the total of $207,723,268 representing the combined total of these items for the Chase, Equitable, and Interstate as of March 27, 1930.

'A' STOCK OF CAPITAL ADMINISTRATION HAS $22.15 ASSET VALUE

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, July 6.—The net asset value of the class A stock of the Capital Administration company, Ltd., on June 30 was $22.15 a share, compared with $23.13 a share on Dec. 31, 1929, according to the semi-annual report of the company issued today.

The report shows that the net assets of the company on June 30 amounted to $11,307,637, against $11,509,805 on Dec. 31, a decrease of $202,168, or 1¾ per cent. On June 30 the company had cash and call loans aggregating $1,538,765, against $2,300,364 on Dec. 31.

Total investments amounted to $10,927,586 at the midyear, of which $7,427,890 was in common stocks, $2,741,655 was in preferred stock, and $758,039 in bonds. The balance for surplus after expenses, federal taxes, interest and other charges was $297,200 for the period.

FURNITURE SHOW TO OPEN TODAY IN LARGE MART

W. H. WILSON.

Furniture men from every corner of the country are in Chicago today to see the new lines of furniture on display at the American Furniture Mart, where the semi-annual furniture style show opens today.

A large delegation from the southeastern states arrived on a special train at the Illinois Central station last night. Other specials came to Chicago from Texas and Oklahoma and from New York City and the east.

At the Mart the exhibits of more than 700 of the country's largest manufacturers were rushed to completion yesterday.

Several meetings of furniture organizations are to be held in the Furniture Club of America, on the top floor of the Mart, during the two weeks' show. Tonight the National Association of Furniture Manufacturers will give a dinner, at which the present marketing situation in the furniture industry is to be considered.

WATCH PLIGHT OF PRODUCERS OF CUBA SUGAR

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, July 6.—With raw sugar selling at the lowest level since the civil war, Wall street has been giving increasing attention of late to the plight of the Cuban sugar producers. The present price of 1.22 cents a pound for Cuban raw falls short of the actual cost of production by as much as a half cent, it is estimated.

The lowest price on record prior to this year was about 1½ cents a pound, reached in 1902. Available records as to prices go back to 1865. It is clear, therefore, that the sugar industry is prostrated today more seriously than at any time since that year.

Cuban sugar producers have been able to reduce their production costs gradually over the last few years. It is estimated that the cost in recent years has averaged from 1.50 cents a pound to 1.66 cents, the latter figures being for the 1928-1929 fiscal year. In 1927-1928 the cost averaged between 2.08 cents and 2.14 cents a pound.

According to sugar authorities, the present depressed state of the industry is due mainly to overproduction.

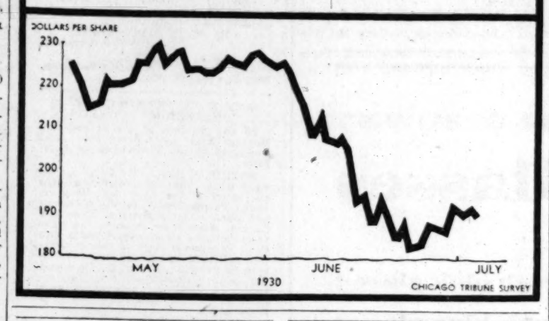
AVERAGE DAILY CLOSING PRICES OF 50 LEADING STOCKS ON THE NEW YORK STOCK EXCHANGE



UNITED FOUNDERS MAY ISSUE HALF YEAR STATEMENT

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, July 6.—The United Founders corporation, the largest investment trust holding company in this country, will establish a new precedent for itself and its group of companies with the publication of a semi-annual financial statement covering the first half of the current year, it was reported today. This report was not denied.

It is also reported that the company will probably also establish another precedent for itself at the same time by publishing in full its portfolio of investments. The first hint that such a step might soon be taken came when the company revealed a substantial part of its holdings for the first time a month ago, as of May 21.

Under the new terms the conversion price will be $74.55 and the stock will be convertible at that price into 1.3413 common shares. These terms will last until Aug. 1.

Sees Nothing Alarming in Higher U. S. Tariff Rates

BY SCRUTATOR.

A good deal of the hullabaloo that is being raised by foreigners about the iniquity of the tariff as now drawn is just the old cry of wolf where there are no wolves.

Undoubtedly some firms in Canada and in Europe are going to be hurt by higher duties. An intelligent Swiss who attended the recent Rotary convention in Chicago attempted to make an issue of them with his brethren, but was squelched. His thought on the matter was that some Swiss industries that had no profitable outlets save in the United States would pass out of the economic procession.

It may be true that this will happen in individual cases. From the standpoint of general welfare, either in this country or in the others affected, the evidence shows nothing alarming. We know that the United States has had for decades a favorable balance of trade in commodities with the remainder of the world. That means only that foreigners owe us more money for goods each year than Americans owe foreigners.

Cites Tourist Trade.

Yet it is unquestionable that in recent years the foreign exchange balances have not gotten out of hand and it can hardly be held that this country since the war has absorbed an undue amount of gold. Certainly it has no such hoard above its necessities as has France.

The reasons, while not obvious to the layman, can be made rather plain. The principal one is that we send so much purchasing power abroad in the form of tourists. They consume the products and pay for the services of foreigners on the foregners' own home grounds. If we have a favorable balance in merchandise trade, other countries in the aggregate have a favorable balance in tourist trade that goes far to overcome it.

Estimates of American expenditures abroad each year vary. Almost all of them fix the figure above 700 million dollars. This, of course, has an offset in tourist expenditures by other nationals, but these are not comparatively large, and the majority of the dollars spent by American tourists abroad become a weight against the merchandise balance.

Realizes Importance.

Canada realizes the importance of the tourist trade. One of the principal banks estimates that 288 million dollars flowed into that country from United States travelers in 1929. Serving the tourist is one of Canada's four greatest industries, and the aggregate amount of 300 million dollars, counting in other tourists than American, makes the trade about of equal value to the forest products or the mineral production of the dominion.

Wherever the rest of the world has anything worth seeing Americans will go to see it. A merchandise balance of trade is imperative here unless such countries want to lose volume in the tourist business. It is imperative if they do not want to lose the remittances being sent back to old countries by prosperous immigrants, nor to lose the flow of investment capital from American funds. If the tariff hurts foreign manufacturing as the wolf criers feel it will, it will at the same time help the invisibles, so-called.

Seasoned Securities, Inc., Forms Investment Trust

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, July 6.—A new investment trust, combining fixed and management principles, has been announced by Seasoned Securities, Inc., which will operate the trust. The trust will be known as Seasoned Securities Trust Shares. The Bank of America will be the trustee. Approximately 75 per cent of the estate in each unit will consist of common stocks of American corporations and approximately 25 per cent will be stock of Seasoned Securities, Inc., which operates independently of the trust as a general investment and investment banking company. Each unit will be divided into 2,000 shares.

A. T. & T. ASSETS MAY BE $3,000,000,000, INCLUDING NEW RIGHTS

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, July 6.—Total assets of the American Telephone and Telegraph company will exceed $3,000,000,000 for the first time in history on Aug. 1 next, when the current rights to buy additional shares expire, if the same proportion of stockholders as in former years elect to pay for their additional shares under the single payment plan. In both 1928 and 1926, it is learned, 83.8 per cent of the stock offered in those years was paid for in full on Aug. 1.

At mid-year total assets amounted to about $2,845,000,000, comparing with $2,704,000,000 on March 31 and $2,477,000,000 on Dec. 21, 1929. The company is offering $257,940,700 additional stock to holders of record May 23, at $100 a share and on a one for six basis. If 83.8 per cent of subscriptions are made on Aug. 1, not including first payments under alternate installment subscription plans, over $215,000,000 will have been added to the company's assets on that date.

The A. T. & T. stock offering is the largest issuance of capital stock in the history of the company and of American industry, and represents in the aggregate an amount superior to the total outstanding capital of all but a few corporations in this country.

EQUIPMENT FOR FARMS AT LOW OUTPUT LEVEL

Several Factors Are Partly to Blame.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, July 6.—Farm equipment operations, which have been declining for the last three months, reached last week, according to reports from statistical houses, the lowest levels of the year. Aside from the usual seasonal dullness in this line the reports state that the following factors enter into the slack business: smaller winter wheat crop than was expected, low wheat prices, limited supply of credit available for farmers, poor foreign crop conditions and an oversupply of farm equipment in the hands of dealers.

With the exception of the overstock in dealers' hands, these factors are so intertwined that executives of the manufacturing companies are divided in opinion as to which is the most important. It is pointed out that the limited credit available for farmers is traceable to smaller crops and low prices, and that with the crops of more value the available credit would be greater.

Bright Side.

The bright side of the picture, according to the manufacturers, is that the farmers are willing to buy where they have the means and the little buying that has been done during the last three months has greatly lessened the stocks in the hands of dealers, so that any revival in the trade from any source will be immediately reflected through more orders to manufacturers.

No great revival, however, is expected until harvesting starts in the northwest and Canada, where the winter wheat situation is still regarded as good. Equally also is the belief that there will be no further recession from the present low point and that any change experienced will be in an upward direction.

The psychological effect of the holidays is also expected to have its results by steel executives. It was pointed out that it is probable that the ingot production for the last week, when announced on Tuesday, will show a level lower than it would ever be possible to reach without an absolute shutdown of mills because, as far as possible, the three day holiday was observed by the steel industry.

The result will be, executives state, that operations for each week forward will show an increase because of full week operation of plants if for no other reason, and the effect that comes from steadily increasing operations rather than declining ones, such as have been announced during the last several weeks, is always beneficial.

Sheridan Utilities Gas Bought by Insull Company

Noblesville, Ind., July 6.—The Sheridan Utilities Gas company was sold today to the Northern Indiana Power company of this city, an Insull organization. The price was not announced but it was understood to be near $100,000. The sale also included the franchises for artificial gas at Danville, Rockville and Plainfield.

Look through Plain Glasses

Last year everybody was looking through pink glasses

This year everybody is looking through blue glasses

If you look through plain glasses you will see that business as a whole is about 91% of normal that employment is about 95% of normal that retail sales are about 97% of last year that grocery sales are practically the same as last year that regular interest and dividends are being paid practically as usual that the buying power of the average person is nearly the same as usual in short, that the 30,000,000 families go on working, earning, buying, and spending almost as much as last year which was an abnormally high year and that the 2,250,000 business establishments go on operating, buying, and selling much as heretofore.

Associated System Shows Gain

Associated System gas and electric output shows a normal two-year gain over 1928 and is ahead of 1929. Gross revenues are ahead of 1929, and appliance sales are materially ahead of 1929.

Seen through plain glasses, 1930 is close to normal in the normal forward march of business. The up-turn in the present temporary "offness" will come when consumption has caught up with the 1929 over-production. Just when that will be no one knows. It will probably be soon, if the time is not already here.

Associated Dyeing & Printing Corporation

At the request of the Committee, International Trust Company as Trustee under the Indenture dated May 1, 1928, after having declared the principal of the outstanding Ten-Year 6% Notes to be immediately due and payable has obtained judgment against Associated Dyeing & Printing Corporation for said principal amount and has filed creditor's bills against said Corporation in the District Courts of the United States for the District of New Jersey and for the Southern District of New York praying, among other things, for the sale of all the properties and assets of said Corporation. Conformably with the prayer of said bills, Receivers of the Corporation and its properties have been appointed with authority to continue the business of the Corporation. If the properties are sold under judicial decrees and purchased in the interests of the Plan, after the confirmation of the sale, the Committee should be in a position to finally consummate the Plan and to arrange for the distribution of the new securities as contemplated thereby.

There has now been deposited under the Plan in excess of 75% in amount of the outstanding Ten-Year 6% Notes and in excess of 80% in amount of the outstanding shares of stock.

The time for deposit and for the exercise of the rights of subscription conferred by the Plan (which can only be exercised at the time of deposit) has been further extended until the close of business on July 28, 1930. All deposits must be made with Bank of Manhattan Trust Company, the Depositary, at its principal office, 40 Wall Street, New York City. The Committee reserves the right either to refuse to receive deposits tendered after July 28, 1930, or to receive the same only upon compliance with such terms and conditions as the Committee may impose as a penalty.

Notice is hereby given that subscriptions to units have been allotted in full and that the Committee has called upon holders of Subscription Receipts issued under the Plan for a further instalment of $25 for each $100 principal amount of secured Notes embraced in the units subscribed for and specified in said respective receipts, to be paid in New York funds to Bank of Manhattan Trust Company at its principal office, 40 Wall Street, New York City, on or before the close of business on August 1, 1930. Subscription Receipts should be presented to the Depositary for appropriate notation at the time of making payment of the instalment called for.

Failure to make payment of said instalment on or before August 1, 1930 will forfeit all rights in respect of all prior instalments paid and otherwise under the Subscription Receipt under which default shall have been made and of all rights under the Plan in respect of such Subscription Receipt, and such Subscription Receipt shall thereupon become void and of no effect for any purpose.
